

NATIONAL PARENT LEADERSHIP MONTH

February 2016

We encourage you to use the following Facebook posts on your personal or organization's page to promote National Parent Leadership Month. These posts are meant to inform and inspire parents to take on leadership roles in their communities, as well as recognize parents for their dedication to their families to help children grow up healthy, happy, and strong.

FACEBOOK POSTS:

February is National Parent Leadership Month! It's time for families to give parents some much deserved recognition for all they do. This month hug them a little tighter and say thank you for all the love and support they give every day!

Parents are not just leaders in their own families; they can also play big roles in their communities. National Parent Leadership Month is all about bringing families together for a common goal. A Community in Unity is built by parents supporting parents.

As a parent, there are many roles to be played. The role of leader is vital in shaping families and teaching our children. For National Parent Leadership Month, we would like to remind all parents of how important their roles are in creating strong and healthy families.

They say it takes a village to raise a child. By standing together as a community in unity, we enable our children to have many people they can look to for support and guidance. For National Parent Leadership Month, recognize another parent in your community that has made a difference in your children's lives.

For National Parent Leadership Month, we would like to take the time to thank and honor parents for all they do for their families. It is because of your love and dedication that today's children can look forward to a bright tomorrow!

Preparing our children to be the next generation of leaders is up to us. National Parent Leadership Month is a great time to remind everyone that coming together as a community in unity benefits everyone!

Studies show that children with involved parents are more likely to receive higher grades and to go to college. National Parent Leadership Month is a great time to raise awareness about the importance of staying involved in our children's lives, even when life is at its busiest.

Families, communities and schools are often separated into different pieces of a child's life, yet they have the greatest collective influence on children. Let's ensure the puzzle pieces fit together, by working together to cooperatively support our young people. The goal for National Parent Leadership Month is to bring together a community in unity for the good of children and families!

Let's dedicate the month of February to parents. This National Parent Leadership Month, we would like to say thank you to parents for all you do for your families. Your love and support help build strong and happy families!

Collaboration is the key to strengthening families. Let's put the unity in community as we work together this National Parent Leadership Month to show our love and support for families and the parents who care for them.

