

Community In Unity Creates Child Well-Being

Let's join hands and resources to protect our children from abuse and neglect

We encourage you to use the following Twitter posts on your personal or organization's page to promote Child Abuse Prevention Month. These tweets are meant to raise awareness about the prevalence of child abuse and neglect, as well as long-term effects. The messages promote the involvement of families, friends, and neighbors to build a community in unity. Together we have what it takes to prevent abuse and neglect and now is the time to encourage everyone to participate in these efforts.
