SUBJECT: COUNTY TEMPORARY ASSISTANCE FOR NEEDY FAMILIES
PROGRAM WORK PARTICIPATION DATA REPORTING FOR
FEDERAL FISCAL YEAR 2017

REFERENCE: ACL 16-06, DATED JANUARY 22, 2016 - COUNTY TEMPORARY ASSISTANCE FOR NEEDY FAMILIES (TANF) PROGRAM WORK PARTICIPATION DATA REPORTING FOR FEDERAL FISCAL YEAR (FFY) 2016; ACL 15-64 CALIFORNIA'S WORK VERIFICATION PLAN, DATED AUGUST 25, 2015; AND ALL COUNTY INFORMATION NOTICE \(ACIN\) I-32-07E, DATED AUGUST 6, 2007

This letter provides updated instructions for reporting county-specific FFY 2017 TANF work participation rate (WPR) data to the California Department of Social Services (CDSS), using the web-based Enterprise II Lite (E2Lite) system. The information in this ACL is consistent with the existing TANF Program Final Rule released on February 5, 2008. In addition, the instructions and definitions are consistent with the updated California's Work Verification Plan, which was approved by the United States Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families (ACF) on January 15, 2014, and took effect on October 1, 2014.

The following changes were made to the attachments:

- Attachment 1: under the definition of "Homework Time," the clarification about counting supervised and unsupervised homework time for participation in the self-initiated program is provided.

- Attachment 2: “School Attendance” is updated. The clarification on work requirements for the two-parent cases is provided.
- Attachment 8: the Table of County WPR Sample Sizes for FFY 2017 is updated.

The following eight attachments are included with this ACL:

- Definitions (Attachment 1)
Definitions of specific terms to assist in the completion of both the questions in the E2Lite survey tool and the data elements in the comma separated values (CSV) file that is produced using the E2L Automated (E2LA) tool. These definitions are consistent with TANF data reporting requirements.
- General Information on Reporting and Documenting TANF Work Participation (Attachment 2)
General information about reporting participation based on actual hours and documenting and verifying work participation hours.
- County WPR Data Elements and Instructions (Attachment 3)
Instructions to complete the data elements for reporting FFY 2017 TANF work participation data using either the E2Lite survey tool or E2LA tool.
- County TANF WPR Sample Information for FFY 2017 (Attachment 4)
Information on the sample and universe used to determine the County WPR.
- County TANF WPR Contact Sheet (Attachment 5)
Document used for notifying the CDSS of a change in the county contact(s) for the WPR information. The CDSS Federal Data Reporting and Analysis Bureau (FDRAB) E2Lite distribution list is revised using the County WPR contact sheet. Each county must send an updated contact sheet to the CDSS when the information changes to ensure the appropriate county staff receive the data.
- County TANF WPR Contacts in the CDSS FDRAB (Attachment 6)
Contact information for CDSS staff who provide technical assistance with county data reporting.
- E2Lite Data Transmission Schedule FFY 2017 (Attachment 7)
List of dates showing when complete and accurate E2Lite data are due to the CDSS.
- County WPR Sample Sizes for FFY 2017 (Attachment 8)
Table of the county WPR sample sizes.

DEFINITIONS

These definitions are consistent with the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) Final Rule released February 5, 2008, and California's Work Verification Plan, approved by the federal Administration for Children and Families (ACF) effective October 1, 2014.

Adult

An adult is a person who is either:

- Nineteen years of age or older.
- Eighteen years of age and head-of-household.
- A minor head-of-household, including a teen parent married to the head-of-household.

Aided Caretaker Relative

An aided caretaker relative is a relative other than a parent (natural or adoptive), or a stepparent head-of-household with insufficient income to meet his or her own needs.

Assistance

Assistance is defined as: cash payments, vouchers and other forms of benefits designed to meet a family's ongoing basic needs for food, clothing, shelter, utilities, household goods, personal care items and general incidental expenses. Benefits provided in the form of payments by a California Work Opportunity and Responsibility to Kids (CalWORKs) agency to individual recipients, and conditioned on their participation in work experience, community service or other work activities, are included in this definition of assistance. Supportive services, such as transportation and childcare provided to families who are not employed, are also defined as assistance, except where specifically excluded by any of the seven exclusions listed below. The term "assistance" excludes:

1. Non-recurring short-term benefits (such as payments for rent deposits or appliance repairs) that:
 - Are designed to deal with a specific crisis situation or episode of need.
 - Are not intended to meet recurrent or ongoing needs.
 - Will not extend beyond four months.

The exclusion of non-recurrent short-term benefits also applies to supportive services to recently employed families during temporary periods of unemployment in order to enable continuity in their service arrangements.

2. Work subsidies (i.e., payments to employers or third parties to help cover the costs of employee wages, benefits, supervision and training).
3. Supportive services, such as childcare and transportation, provided to families who are employed.
4. Refundable earned income tax credits.
5. Contributions to, and disbursements from, Individual Development Accounts.
6. Services, such as counseling, case management, peer support, childcare information and referral, transitional services, job retention, job advancement and other employment-related services that do not provide basic income support.
7. Transportation benefits provided under an Access to Jobs or Reverse Commute Project, pursuant to section 404(k) of the Social Security Act, to an individual who is not otherwise receiving assistance.

Assistance Unit (AU, also referred to as TANF Family)

An AU is defined as all individuals receiving assistance as part of a family under the TANF program and the following additional persons:

1. Parent(s) or caretaker relative(s) (including those receiving Supplemental Security Income [SSI]) of any minor child receiving assistance.
2. Minor siblings (including those receiving SSI) of any child receiving assistance.
3. Any person whose income or resources would be counted in determining the family's eligibility for or amount of assistance.

Community Service Programs

Community service is a training activity that is temporary and transitional, is performed in the public or private nonprofit sector and provides participants with basic job skills that can lead to employment while meeting a community need. Other activities may be included within the community service programs. In these situations, short-term training or equivalent activities are included, if they are of limited duration (usually no longer than six months) and are necessary for participation in the community service activity.

Daily Supervision

Daily supervision means that a responsible party has daily responsibility for oversight of the individual's participation. A worksite sponsor, classroom instructor, contracted service provider, community-based provider, job search instructor, treatment provider or a county employee can fulfill the role of this responsible party. Supervision does not need to be daily, in-person contact with the participant, but can be by telephone or electronic methods as appropriate. In most cases, daily supervision is the supervision determined appropriate and provided by the employer, trainer or service provider at the same level as other employees or trainees. Daily supervision is not applicable to participation in unsubsidized employment, subsidized employment or on-the-job training, because the requirement only applies to unpaid work activities.

Deeming Core Hours for Work Experience and Community Service

Deeming core hours means counting all aided members of the AU (family), as having satisfied the core work activity requirement, if they participate in work experience or community service to the extent permitted under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) rules, even when the actual hours fall short of the core requirement. These FLSA provisions do not apply to work-eligible individuals who are not members of the AU (sanctioned or timed-out individuals). The actual hours of participation must be reported for these individuals.

For work experience or community service, there are a maximum number of hours per month that a family may be required to participate under the minimum wage requirement of FLSA. That maximum number of hours is determined by combining the CalWORKs AU's grant amount with the AU's portion of CalFresh, federally known as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), allotment and then dividing the total by the state or federal minimum wage, whichever is higher. If the actual number of hours of participation in work experience or community service falls short of the family's core hourly requirement, but is equal to or greater than the calculated hours, the family will be deemed to have met the core hourly requirement.

Please note: If an individual happens to participate for more than the calculated number of FLSA hours, then the excessive hours must not be reported under the activity. Instead, they must be reported in the Other Work Activities category.

Example

All Families Case Minimum core hourly requirement (A)	Two- Parent Case Minimum core hourly requirement (A)
20 hours	30 hours
Fair Labor Standards Act calculation (B)	Fair Labor Standards Act calculation (B)
14 hours	18 hours

- If actual hours are equal to or greater than B and less than A, deeming is allowed.
- If actual hours are less than B, no deeming is allowed.

The number of deemed core hours per week for the report month is calculated by subtracting the actual average number of hours of participation in community services programs and/or work experience subject to the FLSA requirements from the core hour participation requirement. Using the example above, for an All-Families case, the deemed hours should be six hours (20 core hours - 14 FLSA hours = 6 deemed hours). For a Two-Parent case, the deemed hours should be 12 hours (30 core hours - 18 FLSA hours = 12 deemed hours).

Disabled

Disabled means the work-eligible individual has a physical or mental illness or impairment that substantially reduces or eliminates the parent's ability to support or care for the child for a period of time that is expected to last at least 30 days and that is supported by acceptable evidence. Acceptable evidence is: (1) a finding of eligibility for Old Age Survivor and Disability Insurance, Supplemental Security Income/State Supplementary Program (SSI/SSP), Workers' Compensation or State Disability Insurance (SDI) benefits based upon the parent's disability, or (2) Form CW 61 (Medical Report) or other written statement from a physician, licensed or certified psychologist or by an authorized member of his or her staff with access to the patient's medical records that provides information sufficient to substantiate the determination of incapacity. See the CDSS Manual of Policies and Procedures (MPP) section 41-430 for additional information about physical or mental incapacity of a parent.

Disregard

To "disregard" from the work participation rate means the TANF family is not included in the calculation (numerator or denominator) of the work participation rate.

Education Directly Related to Employment, in the Case of a Recipient who has not Received a High School Diploma or a Certificate of High School Equivalency

For federal data reporting purposes, education directly related to employment is education related to a specific occupation, job or job offer. The activity is primarily for adults without a high school diploma or General Educational Development (GED) certificate and includes adult basic education, English as a Second Language (ESL) and, when required as a prerequisite for employment, education leading to a GED certificate or high school equivalency diploma. This activity may also include hours of participation in vocational education training that exceeds an individual's 12-month lifetime limit.

Excused Absence Policy

Excused absences mean specific circumstances when hours in unpaid work activities may be counted as actual hours, even though the participant was not able to participate. Excused absences are allowed for semester breaks, planned work shutdowns, school appointments, medical appointments for self or dependents, caseworker appointments, childcare breakdown, illness of self or child, family problems (including domestic abuse issues), housing issues, transportation breakdown and other similar problems. In order to count an excused absence as actual countable hours of participation, the individual must have been scheduled to participate in a countable work activity for the period of the absence that is reported as participation. Documentation and verification of all excused absences must be maintained in the case file.

In the circumstance where a participant in a paid activity is paid for the hours of an absence from that activity (such as a paid holiday or paid vacation), the actual paid hours are countable as participation.

Exempt

Based on federal data reporting instructions, “exempt” means that the individual is not sanctioned for failure to engage in work; however, the TANF family is included in the denominator in the calculation of the work participation rate.

Head-of-Household

There is not a definition of head-of-household for CalWORKs purposes, other than the CalFresh definition. MPP section 63-402.5 states that the County Welfare Department (CWD) shall permit the household to designate a responsible household member to serve as the head-of-household. For CalWORKs purposes, the head-of-household is commonly known to be the payee for the case.

Holidays

For unpaid work activities, holiday means any of the ten state holidays allowed as an excused absence. The maximum number of hours of combined excused absences and holidays in any given month, for each work-eligible individual, is 16 hours per month. The ten state holidays are listed in California’s Work Verification Plan as: New Year’s Day, Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, President’s Day (Washington’s Birthday), Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Veteran’s Day, Thanksgiving Day, the day after Thanksgiving and Christmas Day. In order to count holiday time as actual countable hours of participation, the individual must have been scheduled to participate in a countable work activity for the holiday. Documentation and verification of all holidays must be maintained in the case file.

Similar to an “Excused Absence” circumstance, where a participant in a paid activity is paid for the hours of a holiday, the actual paid hours are countable as participation.

Homework Time

Homework time means actual hours of participation outside of the classroom in activities related to study or completion of class work associated with classes in which the individual is enrolled. Actual hours spent in supervised homework time and up to one hour of unsupervised homework time for each hour of class time may be counted as federal participation. This may apply to the participation in self-initiated program (SIP) because participation in SIP is not differentiated in any way from other educational activities for federal reporting.

Additional Guidance:

A county may count all hours of supervised homework time and one hour of unsupervised homework time for each hour of class time, provided that total homework time counted does not exceed the hours required or advised by the particular educational program.

The only documentation that is required for unsupervised homework time is a statement from the educational program indicating the amount of homework required. For supervised homework time, the same documentation is required along with a time sheet or record of attendance signed by the individual supervising the activity. Documentation must support all the reported hours of participation in homework time and must be maintained in the case file.

For unsupervised homework time, it is sufficient to receive a statement from the institution indicating that as a customary matter, the institution expects class preparation time of one or more hours for every hour of scheduled class time for the relevant course of study. Once the county has this statement from the institution, it can be kept on file and applied whenever individuals are engaged in that course of study at the institution.

If a county chooses to verify hours of education through a combination of daily supervision conducted by the case manager and a standard of satisfactory progress, then the case manager may also be considered to be the individual supervising homework time. In this case, if the case manager, through ongoing engagement, determines that the individual is participating in scheduled class hours and the recipient is making satisfactory progress, then the state may count all hours of homework required or advised by the educational program without additional documentation and without the one hour limitation per hour of class time that the regulations establish for unsupervised homework time. In other words, all the hours of homework time would be supervised and documented by the case manager. For example, if the educational program indicates that two hours of homework and preparation are required for every hour of scheduled class, then the county may count two hours of total homework time without a time sheet or record of attendance (as opposed to just one hour of unsupervised homework time), provided that the daily supervision by the case manager demonstrates that the recipient is attending classes and is achieving satisfactory progress.

Job Search and Job Readiness Assistance

Job search is an activity in which the participant's principal activity is to prepare for and to seek employment. Job search includes looking for suitable job openings, making contact with potential employers, applying for vacancies and interviewing for jobs. Job readiness assistance is an activity that also provides the recipient with training to learn basic job seeking and interviewing skills, to understand employer expectations and to learn skills designed to enhance an individual's capacity to move toward self-sufficiency. Job readiness assistance also comprises the following activities:

1. Preparing an individual to obtain or retain employment, such as preparing a résumé or job application, interviewing skills, instruction in work place expectations and life skills training.

2. Substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment or rehabilitation activities. Treatment or rehabilitation services can include participation in residential treatment, group or individual therapy, or support groups such as Alcoholics Anonymous or Narcotics Anonymous. Substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment and rehabilitation programs that include integrated hours of unsubsidized employment, subsidized employment, work experience or another activity may count as another activity during the hours of the integrated component, as long as the component meets a common sense definition of that other activity.
3. On a case-by-case basis, domestic abuse services that address barriers to employment. Treatment and services for domestic abuse victims include the following activities when needed to seek or prepare for employment: individual counseling of the participant and children; group counseling; substance abuse services; medical and public health services; mental health services; independent living skills; financial planning; and life skills training.

The criteria professionals use for assigning these services is that they must be necessary to prepare an individual to obtain or maintain employment or to participate in welfare-to-work (WTW) activities and must be verified and documented in the WTW plan and/or case file. If a portion of the treatment or rehabilitation activities meets a common-sense definition of another work activity, such as community service or work experience, then the hours associated with the “work” will count under that activity and the actual treatment hours will count in job search and job readiness assistance.

4. Drug testing for a specific job classification and taking tests to qualify for specialized certificates. These activities are assigned to the extent that they are determined necessary for the participant to obtain or prepare for employment or to participate in other WTW activities.
5. Participation in orientation, appraisal or assessment. Orientation is an introduction to the CalWORKs WTW program, including a general description of CalWORKs activities, participation requirements, and consequences for failing to meet requirements, available supportive services and exemptions from participation. Appraisal is an evaluation of an individual’s employment history and skills, necessary supportive services and any other relevant information needed to assign an individual to WTW activities, as well as informing the individual of his or her rights and responsibilities as they pertain to the program. Assessment is a thorough individual review of the recipient’s work history, employment skills, educational history, competency levels, need for supportive services, physical limitations or mental conditions and available resources, all in comparison to local labor market conditions, in order to complete a WTW plan.

6. Hours reported under this activity may include time spent online in distance learning activities. Online tasks could include searching for job vacancies, submitting résumés and completing applications.

Hours spent in these activities are verified and documented in the WTW plan. Job interviews may be obtained from participating in this activity. Reasonable transportation time between job interviews, but not to the first interview or from the last one of the day, will count toward job search and job readiness hours. A county may require additional documentation of activities, which may include such documents as job contact logs that provide sufficient information to verify the job search activity, mileage logs or other documentation and verification, which must be included in the case file.

Job Skills Training Directly Related to Employment

For federal data reporting purposes, job skills training directly related to employment is training or education for job skills required by an employer to provide an individual with the ability to obtain employment or to advance or adapt to the changing demands of the workplace. The activity may include either customized or general training to prepare an individual for employment, including literacy and language instruction and other remedial education. Job skills training directly related to employment may include four-year bachelor degree programs at any state-certified college or university.

Vocational education hours will count under this activity, provided that the core hourly requirement is met through other activities, in order to preserve months in which vocational education is countable as a core activity or to continue education programs beyond the 12-month limit for vocational education.

In some instances, the job skills training is completed as part of distance learning. Participation will count toward job skills training directly related to employment only when the distance learning program otherwise meets the definition of job skills training directly related to employment and the time spent online can be monitored by the service provider, reported to the county welfare department, documented and verified. The documentation and verification must be maintained in the case file.

On-the-Job Training

On-the-job training is training in the public or private sector that is given to a paid employee while he or she is engaged in productive work. On-the-job training provides knowledge and skills essential to the full and adequate performance of the job. The employer is subsidized to offset training costs.

Supported work may be counted as on-the-job training if it includes significant training in the skills and knowledge essential to job performance. On-the-job training may also include orientation and classroom instruction required by the recipient's employer and/or case manager. In some instances, training (e.g., tax preparation) or continuing education (e.g., nursing) is a necessary and regular element of employment.

On-the-job training may include participation in these types of activities only when the individual is reimbursed for the training costs. When the individual is not reimbursed for training costs, the participation counts as job skills training directly related to employment, education directly related to employment, vocational education training or job search and job readiness assistance, as appropriate.

Parent and Parent with a Minor Child in the Family

A parent is a natural or adoptive parent of a minor child.

A parent with a minor child in the family may be a natural parent, adoptive parent or step-parent of a minor child in the family. This definition is used in determining a two-parent family.

Preceding 12-month Period

The preceding 12-month period is defined as the current month for which the county is reporting and the 11 previous months.

Example

The county is to report for September. September is over, so it looks back over the past 12 months (September through the previous October) to see if the case has reached any limits.

Primary Sample

The primary samples of two-parent and all families cases consist of families that are identified on the Medi-Cal Eligibility Data System (MEDS) file prior to the sample month. These samples are drawn around the end of the month prior to the sample month and contain the majority of the sample cases for a month. Primary samples are combined with appropriate supplementary samples for the same month in order to fully represent the caseload for the review month and to produce the monthly work participation rates.

Providing Care for a Disabled Family Member

This is an individual who is providing care for a disabled family member living in the home, provided that there is medical documentation to support the need for the parent to remain in the home to care for the disabled family member:

1. Disabled means either the individual is receiving benefits from State Disability Insurance, Worker's Compensation Temporary Disability Insurance, In-Home Supportive Services, or the Supplemental Security Income/State Supplementary Program (SSI/SSP), or the individual has provided verification from a doctor of his or her disability. For adult family members, disabled also means the individual is temporarily disabled, and the disability is expected to last at least 30 days and significantly impair the individual's ability to be regularly employed or participate in activities. For family members who are children, the disability significantly impairs his or her ability to participate in school activities. In addition to providing verification from a doctor of his or her disability, the individual will be required to actively seek treatment, if appropriate, as verified by a doctor.

2. Family member means the individual is a relative living in the household. A relative may be any relation by blood, marriage or adoption who is within the fifth degree of kinship to the dependent child, as defined in MPP section 82-808.
3. Doctor means a health care professional who is licensed by a state to diagnose/treat physical and mental impairments that can affect an individual's ability to work or to participate in WTW activities. Doctor includes, but is not limited to, doctors of medicine, osteopathy, chiropractic and licensed/certified psychologists.
The examination must confirm that the condition or disability requires the individual to care for the disabled family member at home.

Providing Childcare to an Individual who is Participating in a Community Service Program

For federal data reporting purposes, providing childcare to an individual participating in community service is providing childcare to enable another TANF recipient to participate in a community service program. The activity does not allow for one parent in a two-parent case to care for his or her own children in the home while the other parent participates in activities. In most situations, this activity would be reported as unsubsidized employment.

Sample

A sample is a part of a larger population that is intended to be representative of the whole population. It is used when it is not feasible to examine the entire population. The County Work Participation Rate sample is a statistically valid random sampling of TANF cases. The sample cases are drawn from the universe, which is based upon case characteristics found in the MEDS file. In order to produce the valid all-families and two-parent work participation rates, the sample consists of two TANF sub-groups: Two-Parent Families and All-Families cases.

Sanction

Sanction means a reduction in the family's grant by removing the needs of the non-compliant family member from the AU for failing or refusing to comply with program requirements without good cause.

Satisfactory School Attendance at Secondary School or in a Course of Study Leading to a Certificate of General Equivalence in the Case of a Recipient Who has not Completed Secondary School or Received Such a Certificate

For federal data reporting purposes, satisfactory school attendance is regular attendance, in accordance with the requirements of the secondary school or course of study, at a secondary school or in a course of study leading to a certificate of general equivalence, in the case of a recipient who has not completed secondary school or received such a certificate. Satisfactory school attendance is primarily an activity for minor parents and will only include other related educational activities, such as adult basic education or language instruction, when they are required for completion of a GED certificate. Hours of participation attending high school in a vocational education track may be counted under this activity.

In addition, case management services may be provided to minor parents in this activity. Case management involves directing and coordinating a recipient's educational, health and social services and may include ESL, career training, alternative school, tutoring, dropout prevention and teen pregnancy or parenting programs. The case management programs are essential to this work category, in that they address the special social service needs of minor parents. Meeting these specific needs helps this group of recipients attain a GED certificate or attend secondary school, which helps minor parents achieve self-sufficiency.

In some instances, participation is completed as part of distance learning and counts toward satisfactory school attendance only when the distance learning program otherwise meets the definition of the activity, and the time spent is monitored by the service provider and is reported to the county welfare department on a monthly basis. Homework time that can be documented and verified may also be counted. All documentation and verification must be maintained in the case file.

Single Custodial Parent

For data reporting purposes, a single custodial parent is the parent of a minor child living in the household (aided or unaided) and the only parent and/or minor child head of household living in the home.

Subsidized Private Sector Employment

Subsidized private sector employment means employment in the private sector for which the employer receives a subsidy from TANF or other public funds to offset some or all of the wages and costs of employing a work-eligible individual. Subsidized work may include: (1) work supplementation where TANF funds that would otherwise be paid as assistance are paid to the employer or to a third-party contractor, like a temporary staffing agency, which serves as the employer of record and is paid a fee to cover salary, expenses and success in placing employees; (2) supported work for individuals with disabilities in an integrated setting; (3) work study activities; or (4) paid barrier removal and educational activities. Subsidized employment is distinguished from work experience in that the participant in subsidized employment is paid wages and receives the same benefits as an employee with no subsidy who performs similar work.

Hours of participation in various barrier removal activities, such as mental health, substance abuse, and/or rehabilitative services, can count under this activity if they are integrated parts of subsidized employment. In order to count, the individuals must be paid for all of the hours they participate in such activities that are counted as subsidized employment. If the individuals are not paid while participating in these activities, the participation will be reported as subsidized employment and another appropriate activity, such as job search and job readiness assistance.

Subsidized Public Sector Employment

Subsidized public sector employment means employment in the public sector for which the employer receives a subsidy from TANF or other public funds to offset some or all of the wages and costs of employing a work-eligible individual. Subsidized work may include: (1) work supplementation where TANF funds that would otherwise be paid as assistance are paid to the employer or to a third-party contractor, like a temporary staffing agency, which serves as the employer of record and is paid a fee to cover salary, expenses and success in placing employees; or (2) supported work for individuals with disabilities in an integrated setting; or (3) work-study activities; or (4) paid barrier removal and educational activities. Subsidized employment is distinguished from work experience in that the participant in subsidized employment is paid wages and receives the same benefits as an employee with no subsidy who performs similar work.

Hours of participation in various barrier removal activities, such as mental health, substance abuse, and/or rehabilitative services, can count under this activity if they are integrated parts of subsidized employment. In order to count, the individuals must be paid for all of the hours they participate in such activities that are counted as subsidized employment. If the individuals are not paid while participating in these activities, the participation will be reported as subsidized employment and another appropriate activity, such as job search and job readiness assistance.

Supplementary Sample

The supplementary sample consists of cases that received aid during the sample month but were not identified on the MEDS file when the primary sample was drawn. Typically, these cases are discontinued from eligibility during the sample month and have benefits retroactively restored, or are new cases approved after the cutoff date for the primary sample. The supplemental sample is drawn near the end of the month following the sample month, and is combined with the primary sample to represent the complete sample for the review month and to produce the monthly work participation rates.

Example

The January primary sample is pulled around December 26.

The January supplementary sample is pulled around February 26.

TANF Family

See definition of "Assistance Unit."

Two-parent Family

A two-parent family is a family with two work-eligible natural or adoptive parents (of the same minor child) living in the home, unless both are minors and neither is a head-of-household.

For two-parent work participation rate calculation purposes, a work-eligible step-parent may be considered when determining a parent with a minor child in a two-parent family. (A family with one or more work-eligible individual, but not two parents, is only included in the overall work participation rate, unless disregarded.)

Universe

A universe is a set of individuals, items or data from which a statistical sample is taken. The sample universe consists of all TANF-eligible cases found on the MEDS file for each sample month.

Unsubsidized Employment

Unsubsidized employment is full-time or part-time employment in the public or private sector that is not subsidized by TANF or any other public program. Unsubsidized employment includes self-employment as well as recipients whose employers claim a tax credit for hiring economically disadvantaged workers. Only the hours that are paid by the employer are counted as unsubsidized employment. Apprenticeship programs that allow participants to earn money while they practice the trade under the supervision of a journeyman and attend classes are also considered unsubsidized employment. The determination of whether employment is subsidized, or not, depends on whether the employer, rather than the recipient, receives a subsidy.

Hours of participation in various barrier removal activities, such as mental health, substance abuse, and/or rehabilitative services, can count under this activity if they are integrated parts of unsubsidized employment. Individuals must be paid for all of the hours they participate in such activities that are counted as unsubsidized employment. If the individuals are not paid while participating in these activities, the participation will be reported as another appropriate activity such as job search and job readiness assistance.

Vocational Education (VocEd) Training

For federal data reporting purposes, vocational education training is organized educational programs that are directly related to the preparation of individuals for employment in current or emerging occupations. Vocational education must be provided by vocational-technical schools, postsecondary institutions or proprietary schools. Vocational education training placements are documented on a list developed by each county. Based on MPP 42-711.543, the list, which is revised annually, includes programs that lead to jobs in the local labor market and is used by the CWD to approve vocational education training and/or to assign activities as a result of assessment. For programs not on the county's list, the CWD determines if the program is directly related to job preparation.

In some instances, the vocational education training is completed as part of distance learning. Participation counts toward vocational education training hours only when the time spent is monitored by the service provider and reported to the CWD. Homework time that can be documented and verified may also be counted. All documentation and verification must be maintained in the case file.

Work-Eligible Individual

Work-eligible individual means an adult (or minor child head of household) receiving assistance under TANF or a Separate State Program, or a non-recipient parent living with a child receiving such assistance unless the parent is:

1. A minor parent and not the head-of-household.
2. A non-citizen who is ineligible to receive assistance due to his or her immigration status.
3. On a case-by-case basis, a recipient of SSI benefits:

The adult applicants of SSI may be retroactively determined to be not work-eligible once they are approved for SSI benefits. Previously reported work participation data may be revised to remove these individuals from work-eligible status. The data revision may include adjustments made retroactively to the beginning of the Federal Fiscal Year (FFY) that includes the review month. In addition, the revision must occur by the end of the calendar year.

4. On a case-by-case basis, a recipient of Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) benefits.

The adult applicants of SSDI may be retroactively determined to be not work-eligible once they are approved for SSDI benefits. Previously reported work participation data may be revised to remove these individuals from work-eligible status. The data revision may include adjustments made retroactively to the beginning of the FFY that includes the review month. In addition, the revision must occur by the end of the calendar year.

5. Providing care for a disabled family member living in the home, provided that there is medical documentation to support the need for the parent to remain in the home to care for the disabled family member.
6. An individual in a family receiving Maintenance-of-Effort (MOE) funded assistance under an approved Tribal TANF program.

The definition of a work-eligible individual defines the denominator of the participation rate calculation and is a guideline of who must be engaged in work activities for federal data reporting purposes. (Cases without TANF or TANF MOE funding are not reviewed in E2Lite.) The definition of a work-eligible individual does not include non-recipient non-custodial parents who are not living with the aided child or non-needy caretaker relatives.

Work-Eligible Individual – Change in Circumstance

If an individual's status changes during the report month from work-eligible to non work-eligible or vice versa, the individual is considered work-eligible for the report month. That means the family will be in the denominator for the month if an adult is work-eligible for any time in that month.

If a family includes a work-eligible individual for only part of a month, the family is considered to have met the participation requirement for the month and is included in the numerator if the adult is meeting the required minimum average hours in each full week that he or she was a work-eligible individual in that month. For example, if an adult (or minor child head-of-household) who was receiving assistance died prior to the report month, the deceased individual is not a work-eligible individual for the report month, even if the family's grant for the report month included the needs of the deceased individual. However, if a work-eligible individual died in the report month, the death would be treated as would any other change in circumstances.

Work Experience

Work experience is a training activity performed in the public or private sector, including a nonprofit, community-based or faith-based setting that helps provide basic job skills, enhances existing job skills in a position related to the participant's experience or provides a needed community service that shall lead to unsubsidized employment.

Hours of participation in various barrier removal activities, such as mental health, substance abuse, and/or rehabilitative services, will count under this activity if they are integrated parts of work experience.

GENERAL INFORMATION ON REPORTING AND DOCUMENTING TEMPORARY ASSISTANCE FOR NEEDY FAMILIES (TANF) WORK PARTICIPATION

This information provides additional clarification about reporting, documenting and verifying actual hours of participation in TANF work activities. These instructions are consistent with the instructions provided to county and state staff who collect and submit data (via the Research and Development Enterprise Project) to the federal Administration for Children and Families (ACF) and calculate the statewide federal work participation rates. They are also consistent with the federal regulations released on February 5, 2008, and California's Work Verification Plan (WVP), which was approved by ACF effective October 1, 2014.

Actual Hours of Participation

Federal data reporting regulations require reporting, documentation and verification of actual hours of participation. Since these reporting instructions are meant to be consistent with federal instructions, counties are required to report actual hours of participation in all activities. Counties are encouraged to report all actual hours of participation for all individuals, even when it is believed that the individuals will not meet participation requirements.

To ensure accurate reporting of all data for all sampled cases, each case must be reviewed on a case-by-case basis, regardless of the identified aid code, to determine if the case received TANF assistance, whether the case contains work-eligible individuals and other characteristics of the case.

Quality of Participation Data

To ensure accurate and consistent reporting of hours of participation and to comply with federal regulations and guidance, the California Department of Social Services (CDSS) Federal Data Reporting and Analysis Bureau (FDRAB) continues to recommend the following guidelines for federal data reporting purposes:

- Actual hours, including those verified through the Work Number and other third party verifications (through the Income and Eligibility Verification System [IEVS], etc.), continue to be the source of the most accurate and acceptable means of reporting hours of participation in any activity.
- Actual hours of work may be documented and verified during the eligibility process, if reported, using the Semi-Annual Reporting (SAR 7 form) process, and/or other records in the case file or employer reports. Evidence must be submitted with the SAR 7 form, which is signed by the head-of-household under penalty of perjury, to document and verify the reported information.

- Projection of employment hours for up to six months, based on actual hours reported on the SAR 7 form and/or other employer-issued documentation, continues to be the next most accurate and acceptable method of reporting hours of work participation.
- When actual hours for any activity are not available in the case file, or if clarification is needed, the county will seek the hours of participation from the recipient. If the information is not available from the recipient, the county shall work with the individual to obtain the information by placing a phone call to the employer/service provider or sending a letter to verify the participant's hours of participation. Any such communication must include the participant's name; the name of the employer, work site supervisor or other service provider; the number of hours; and the name and phone number of the person verifying the hours. Documentation and verification must be maintained in the case file.

If, after pursuing the steps described above, the actual hours of employment cannot be determined, or are not available, and the monthly salary and hourly wage are available, the county may divide the salary by the hourly wage to determine the number of hours per month worked. This monthly number of hours is then divided by 4.33 and then rounded to the nearest whole number to determine the average number of hours per week of participation. If the hourly wage is unattainable or is unknown, minimum wage cannot be used to determine weekly hours of participation.

Deeming of Work Experience Hours, Community Service Hours and School Attendance Hours

Deemed hours of participation are automatically calculated and applied when processed by the FDRAB in a batch process. The appropriate hours will appear on the monthly data reconciliation files that are distributed to each county. When appropriate, only the actual hours of participation should be entered into Enterprise II Lite (E2Lite).

If satisfactory school attendance, as determined by the county welfare department (CWD), was made during the report period (summer vacation), but there are zero hours of participation, enter one hour of participation to allow E2Lite to properly deem the hours of participation.

Documentation of Hours of Participation in Case File

Generally, the actual hours of participation may be documented and verified during the eligibility process using information reported through the SAR process and/or other records in the case file. Recipient eligibility and benefits for the quarter are based on information provided through the SAR process. In general, evidence must be submitted during the SAR process to verify the reported information. Participants are responsible for making available to the CWD all documents in their possession or available to them that is needed to verify reported income, as well as the date of receipt. Evidence of income may include pay stubs that report the number of hours of employment or other employer-produced documents that support the individual's work hours.

If the information necessary to document and verify actual hours of participation is not in the case file, the CWD should seek documentation and verification from the recipient.

If the information is not available from the recipient, the county shall provide the recipient assistance in obtaining the information by placing a phone call to the employer or sending a letter to verify the participant's work hours, then documenting the communication, including the participant's name, the name of the employer, work site supervisor or other service provider, the number of hours and the name and phone number of the person verifying the hours. Documentation of hours of participation must be maintained in the case file.

Third-party sources of employment information, such as IEVS, may be accessed when additional employment verification is necessary. Prior to counting these hours, the information from these or other third-party sources must be verified through collateral contact as described above. The Work Number is also a resource that can be used by counties to verify employment. Counties are permitted to use the information obtained from this source in the same manner as they would use information provided by the employer. Therefore, no further verification of employment is necessary when using The Work Number. Please refer to All County Letter 02-42 for further information on The Work Number.

Case records must be retained for three years or longer if any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit or other action involving the records has been started before the expiration of the three-year period. The retention period extends until completion of the action and resolution of all issues which arise from it, or the three-year period, whichever is later.

Excused Absences in Unpaid Work Activities

Each work-eligible individual engaged in unpaid work activities is allowed excused absences. The maximum number of hours of excused absences and holidays in any given month, for each work-eligible individual, is 16 hours per month. A total of ten state holidays are allowed as excused absences in a 12-month period: New Year's Day, Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, President's Day (Washington's Birthday), Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving, Day after Thanksgiving and Christmas Day. The 80 hours of excused absences, not more than 16 hours per month, are allowed for semester breaks, planned work shutdowns, school appointments, medical appointments for self or dependents, caseworker appointments, childcare breakdown, illness of self or child, family problems, including domestic abuse issues, housing issues, transportation breakdown and other similar problems. In order to count an excused absence as actual countable hours of participation, the individual must have been scheduled to participate in the countable activity for the period of the absence that is reported as participation. Documentation and verification of excused absences must be maintained in the case file.

Excused Absence and Holiday Hours Rounding in Unpaid Work Activities

To ensure consistency with federal data reporting requirements, round excused absence and holiday hours in unpaid work activities independently from the corresponding activity hours before combining the data into E2Lite.

For example, if a participant has eight excused absence hours, eight holiday hours and 120 hours of vocational education training (VocEd) for a sample month, the average weekly hours* entered for VocEd would be calculated as follows:

8 excused absence hours / 4.33	= 1.85 (2 avg. weekly hours rounded)
8 holiday hours / 4.33	= 1.85 (2 avg. weekly hours rounded)
120 VocEd hours / 4.33	= 27.71 (28 avg. weekly hours rounded)
Sum of rounded avg. weekly hours	= 32 avg. weekly hours entered into E2L

 Please see the “Participation: Calculating Average Weekly Hours” section for additional information about “average weekly hours” and rounding.*

Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) Deeming for Work Experience and Community Service

Since the FLSA applies to participation in work experience and community service, these participants are considered employees. The maximum allowable number of hours of participation per month for such participants is determined by combining the California Work Opportunity and Responsibility to Kids (CalWORKs) grant for the assistance unit (AU) with the AU's portion of CalFresh, federally known as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), allotment for the sample month and then dividing the total by the state or federal minimum wage, whichever is higher. All members of the AU (family) cannot be required to participate in work experience or community service more than the number of hours during the month. Under specific circumstances, ACF allows families that are determined by that calculation to meet core requirements, even when the actual hours of participation are not sufficient to meet the core requirements.

If an individual happens to participate for more than the calculated number of FLSA hours, then the excess hours must not be reported under the activity. Instead, they must be reported in the Other Work Activities category.

In-Kind Income

The data reporting instructions already provide the counties with discretion to count these activities under whichever federal work activity best meets the definition of the “work.” Federal regulations require states to define all work-related activities and require actual hours be reported, documented and verified.

If the county has determined, after reviewing the duties associated with the in-kind activity, that participation in this type of activity will assist the individual in attaining self-sufficiency and has included the in-kind income activity in the individual's welfare-to-work plan, the hours of participation may be counted under the appropriate activity. These hours should be readily identifiable, on an ongoing basis, through the review of the duties, as well as discussions with the recipient and monitoring of the individual's participation to determine his or her compliance with CalWORKs welfare-to-work requirements. Only when these requirements are met, can the hours reported by the recipient be verified by the case manager by comparing the information to determine if the hours appear to be reasonable. Actual hours of employment may not be obtainable from the employer, but certainly can be obtained from the recipient and verified by the case manager.

Limits on Counting Job Search and Job Readiness Assistance

Job search and job readiness activities are limited to no more than four consecutive weeks and up to six weeks total in the preceding 12-month period. The six-week limit is based on the average number of hours per week required for a family to count in the overall participation rate. Thus, the six-week limit equates to 120 hours and 180 hours, respectively. For the limit of no more than four consecutive weeks, a week is seven consecutive days and is not converted to hours. Reporting any hours in a week uses a week of participation.

A full week of participation may be calculated based on the average daily hours for three or four days. The average hours of participation during three or four days may be applied to the remaining one or two days in the week to determine the total hours for a week. This calculation is one of the only exceptions to reporting actual hours and its use is limited to once in a 12-month period. If this provision is used, the case file must indicate that weekly hours were based on the average number of hours for three or four days.

- Example of Hourly Equivalent to the Six-Week Limit on Counting Participation in Job Search and Job Readiness Assistance

An individual with a 20-hour requirement participates in job search and job readiness assistance for five hours per week and in work experience for 15 hours per week. The participation continues for six months. The 20 hours of job search and job readiness assistance participation from the first four weeks (five hours per week for four weeks) can be counted during the first month, thus using only one time-limited week instead of four. At that pace, the six weeks (120 hours) could be stretched to 30 weeks over the preceding 12-month period, keeping in mind that every fifth consecutive week of job search and job readiness assistance hours cannot be counted.

- Example of the Four-Consecutive-Week Limit on Counting Job Search and Job Readiness Assistance Hours

A county begins reporting hours for an individual on March 3. All of the job search and job readiness assistance hours from March 3 through March 9 would be counted as part of the first week. Hours from March 10 through March 16 would be counted as part of the second consecutive week, and hours from March 17 through March 23 would be counted as part of the third consecutive week. After March 30, hours for the individual could not be counted for the next seven consecutive days. Beginning on April 7, job search and job readiness assistance hours could again be counted.

For those months when California either (1) has an unemployment rate of at least 50 percent greater than the unemployment rate of the United States or (2) meets the definition of a “needy state,” the limit on an individual’s participation in job search and job readiness assistance may be increased from six weeks to a maximum of 12 weeks in the preceding 12-month period. Any increase in the maximum number of weeks of job search and job readiness assistance is permitted only on a case-by-case basis and only for months when California meets the above criteria. It is important to note that the determination of whether a state meets the criteria is made late in the month following the month of qualification. Refer to the following ACF website for information on whether California qualifies for counting these additional weeks on a monthly basis: <http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/ofa/resource/12wks-qualifiers>

Participation: Calculating Average Weekly Hours

As described in All County Information notice I-62-12, if a family receives assistance for only part of a month, then an adult in the family must be engaged in work for the minimum average number of hours in each full week that the family receives assistance in that month to be counted as meeting the work participation requirement for that month. A week begins the day that the aid is approved (the effective beginning date of aid in the same report month) and ends seven days later.

If aid is granted for a retroactive reporting period (the month prior to approval), the family is only required to be included in the sample or required to meet the hourly work participation requirements during the month of payment, the month in which assistance was received. A retroactive payment made during a review month does not create a work requirement for a family that was not assisted during the review month.

The following guidance can be used to calculate hours of participation in TANF work activities. The calculation described in this guidance is consistent with federal TANF data reporting regulations and instructions.

Work-eligible individuals are the only family members who are required to participate in TANF activities. If the family has no work-eligible individual, then there are no participation requirements for the family.

- Months of Full TANF Assistance and Participation

A family with a work-eligible individual must be engaged in work for the minimum required average number of hours in each full week for which the family receives assistance in that month to be counted as meeting the work participation requirement for the month. Federal data reporting regulations require reporting, documentation and verification of actual hours of participation. To calculate the average number of hours per week of actual participation in a work activity, add the total number of actual participation hours for the month and then divide the total monthly hours by 4.33, which is the average number of weeks per month in a calendar year. If necessary, round to the nearest whole number.

The required number of average weekly hours does not change based upon partial assistance or partial participation. What does change is the method for calculating the average weekly hours of actual participation.

- Partial Months of TANF Assistance

Required Number of Hours

During the first or last month of any spell of assistance, a family may happen to receive assistance for only part of the month. If a family receives assistance for only part of a month, a work-eligible individual in the family must be engaged in work for the minimum required average number of hours in each full week for which the family receives assistance in that month to be counted as meeting the work participation requirement for that month.

Actual Number of Hours

If a family receives assistance for only part of the month, the average weekly hours of participation are computed by dividing the total number of actual participation hours for the period of aid by the number of weeks for which the family received assistance in the month. Round the result to the nearest whole number. When a case receives assistance for fewer than seven days, the hours should not be averaged. The total hours of participation over all of the days for which the family was aided should be reported.

Example: A client is aided for the last ten days of the month. The client worked 15.6 hours during the period of aid. Ten days is 1.4 weeks (10 divided by 7). Divide the total number of actual participation hours by the number of weeks (15.6 divided by 1.4 = 11.14 hours). Round the result to the nearest whole number. Report 11 hours of weekly participation.

If you don't know the actual number of hours during the period of aid, but have a pay stub, you can use our standard averaging formula.

Example: A client is aided for the last ten days of the month. They have a paystub for the last 14 days of the month (bi-weekly pay period) showing 25 hours worked. To get the monthly average, multiply the hours for the pay period by 2.167 (the multiplier will be 2.0 if client is paid semi-monthly) and divide by 4.33.

Bi-weekly: $25 \times 2.167 = 54.175$ divided by 4.33 = 12.5 hours weekly participation

Semi-monthly: $25 \times 2 = 50$ divided by 4.33 = 11.5 hours weekly participation

When a case receives assistance for fewer than seven days, the hours should not be averaged. The total hours of participation over all of the days for which the family was aided should be reported.

- Partial Months of TANF Participation

- Required Number of Hours

- Any time during a spell of assistance, a family may participate for only part of the month. If a family participates for only part of a month, a work-eligible individual in the family must be engaged in work for the minimum required average number of hours in each full week for which the family receives assistance in that month to be counted as meeting the work participation requirement for that month.

- Actual Number of Hours

- If a family is aided for the entire month, but the individual only participates for part of the month, the average weekly hours are computed by dividing the total number of actual participation hours for the month by 4.33, which is the average number of weeks per month in a calendar year. If necessary, round to the nearest whole number.

- Examples of Determining the Average Weekly Hours of Actual Participation

- Example 1 – TANF Family Receives Less Than a Full Week of Assistance

- A family applies for assistance in late October. After being approved, the family receives a grant for the final four days of the month. The single work-eligible parent worked for six hours on each of the four days. The number of hours of participation should be reported as 24 (six hours multiplied by four days, without averaging).

- Example 2 – Work-Eligible Individual(s) Participated for Less Than a Full Month

- A family receives aid for the entire month of October. The single work-eligible parent began participating on weekdays only for eight hours a day beginning October 12th and ending on the 24th. The number of hours of participation should be reported as 17 (eight hours multiplied by nine days, divided by 4.33 weeks, rounded to the nearest whole number).

Example 3 – TANF Recipient is Work-Eligible for Less Than a Full Month

A family receives aid for the entire month of October during which time the parent participates four hours per weekday. From October 1st through 15th, the parent is a work-eligible individual. From October 16th through 31st, the parent is not work-eligible. The number of hours of participation should be reported as 22 (four hours of participation per day multiplied by 11 days of participation as a work-eligible individual, divided by two weeks as a work-eligible individual).

Projection of HoursSemi-Annual Reporting (SAR)

Please note: The SAR System was fully implemented on October 1, 2013. The projection of hours calculation is limited to a maximum of six months. The ACF approved California's updated WVP, effective September 1, 2013, to allow the six-month projections in California.

Projections of hours for up to six months are allowed based on the SAR, Annual Reporting (AR) or actual monthly hours. The link for the ACL 12-25, dated May 17, 2012, describes the SAR system:

<http://www.dss.cahwnet.gov/lettersnotices/entres/getinfo/acl/2012/12-25.pdf>

Annual Reporting (AR)

The AR provisions of state SB 1041, took effect October 1, 2012. Projection of hours for these cases is limited to a six-month projection period similar to the SAR projection process below. If a case is sampled after a six-month projection, actual data are required to report or make further projections of hours of participation.

The link for ACL 12-49, dated September 27, 2012, describes the AR system:

<http://www.cdss.ca.gov/lettersnotices/entres/getinfo/acl/2012/12-49.pdf>

Monthly hours of participation in subsidized and unsubsidized employment may be projected for up to six months, based on the most current, documented and verified actual hours. This information may be obtained using pay stubs and/or information reported through the most recent SAR process and/or other data sources, such as employer reports and time and attendance records. Like reporting all hours of participation for employment in order to project hours, the actual hours must be available or the total income and the hourly wage must be available. When projecting, the most recent report on hours of participation must be used for any of the six future months. If the actual hours of participation for a particular month are known, there is no need to project hours for that month. Under no circumstances may hours of participation from a current month be used to project hours for a past month (retroactively). In addition, hours of participation for a current month may not be used to project beyond the next six-month period.

If actual hours of participation from a single calendar month are the most current, verified and documented, these hours may be used for projection purposes. The county must accurately determine the actual hours worked in the single calendar month if pay stubs, etc. cross into multiple months. If any updated hours for the sample month are reported, projections must be recalculated.

There are two exceptions in which actual hours from more than a single month may be used to project hours of participation in these activities. These exceptions are:

- If the actual hours of participation from income reported on the SAR 7, which was used to determine the family's grant for the next six months, consisted of hours and income received from two months, those same hours can be used to project hours of participation for up to six months. If any changes to the actual hours are reported, the projected hours must be recalculated based on the most recent report of hours.

Example: The SAR 7 report month for February is submitted to the county in March and contains 100 actual hours of participation for the income received in February. The case has been pulled in the May sample and no additional hours of participation have been reported for any individual in the family. The SAR 7 hours (100 hours) can be used to project hours for May. (100 hours divided by 4.33 = 23 (rounded) hours per week of participation).

In March, if the hours of participation increase to 120 hours, the projected hours that were reported for May must be recalculated. 120 divided by 4.33 = 28 (rounded) hours of participation for May. Documentation and verification must be maintained in the case file.

Example note: The February SAR 7 is used to determine eligibility for the April to September six-month period. The hours reported on the February SAR 7 may be used for or projected for cases that come up for review in the next six months, respectively (April-September). The hours may not be used or projected for case reviews in March or any month after the projected period.

- If an individual starts a job after the last SAR 7 information has been reported for the family, only two consecutive weeks of hours of participation may be used, even if the hours of participation cross months. These hours are converted to monthly hours by multiplying the total hours for the two-week period by 2.17 and dividing that amount by 4.33. If the county has more than two consecutive weeks of hours for new employment, additional reporting may be required to ensure all the actual hours worked for the month have been reported, documented and verified. If a county has actual hours of participation for the report month, no projection is necessary, and the total hours of employment for the month are divided by 4.33 to obtain the average number of hours per week for that month.

Example using two consecutive weeks: Hours of participation are submitted to the county in March. The most recent pay stub reflects hours of participation for two consecutive weeks of pay (50 hours); one week in February (24 hours), and one week in March (26 hours). These hours may be used to project hours for the month of March (the sample month) as well as the April to September six-month period, if no additional hourly information is available. The actual hours for the two consecutive weeks (50 hours) are multiplied by 2.17, and the product is divided by 4.33 to determine the average weekly hours of employment for the month; round the final result to the nearest whole number. Fifty hours multiplied by 2.17 then divided by 4.33 = 25 (rounded) hours per week of participation.

School Attendance

Teen parent heads-of-household or spouses without a high school diploma who are properly enrolled in secondary school, or its equivalent, and are satisfactorily attending classes may be considered as both making satisfactory progress and participating. The county should report the actual number of participant hours and, if the actual number is not sufficient to meet the hourly requirement, 20 core hours will be deemed in the calculation of the county's rate, and the family will be counted in the numerator for the All Family rate.

In order to meet the two-parent work requirements, one of the parents must work enough additional hours to total 35 average weekly hours when combined with the other parent's school attendance, if the second parent is a qualifying teen parent who attends a secondary school. The second parent's school attendance alone cannot deem the family to meet the two-parent requirements. These individuals must make good or satisfactory progress, which may include, but is not limited to, performance, attendance, and/or completion timeframes under the standards of the institution or program. These determinations must be documented in the case file.

Although satisfactory progress for school is determined by the CWD, general guidance is provided for data reporting during summer vacation; satisfactory progress and participation may count, regardless of the number of hours of participation, if the participant:

1. Did not complete the basic education program requirements, and;
2. Is enrolled or intends to enroll as a full-time student after the school vacation.

COUNTY WORK PARTICIPATION RATE (WPR) DATA ELEMENTS AND INSTRUCTIONS

The county WPR survey questions and accompanying instructions are based on the final Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) regulations released on February 5, 2008, the federal data reporting requirements and California's Work Verification Plan approved by the federal Administration for Children and Families (ACF) effective September 1, 2013. The data elements and instructions are required for reporting data in the Enterprise II Lite (E2L) survey tool or the E2L Automated (E2LA) tool.

In order for hours of participation to count toward the WPR, the county must document and verify the participation hours. In addition, that documentation and verification must be maintained in the individual's case file. The documentation should include the participant's name; the name of the employer, work site supervisor or other service provider; the number of hours; and the name and phone number of the person verifying the hours.

Consistent with ACF's current practice, data for cases can be resubmitted during the federal fiscal year if additional participation information and the appropriate documentation and verification for the review month become available after initial submission. Please refer to the E2L User Manual for additional information on re-submitting data.

Case Information

1. Did the assistance unit receive TANF assistance for the review month?

Enter "yes" if the assistance unit (AU) received TANF assistance in the review month, even if it is later determined to be an overpayment. This would also include a grant for which a check is not issued because it is less than $10 or because of a penalty or sanction. Foster Care and Kinship Guardianship Assistance Payments (Kin-GAP) are not considered TANF assistance. A newly approved case granted aid retroactively for a prior month should be excluded if no assistance was received in the sample month. (For a definition of Assistance, see Attachment 1.)

If "yes", this case may be included in the calculation in one or both of the participation rates. If "no" the survey is complete and this case will not be included in either of the participation rate calculations and no further data collection is necessary.

Head-of-Household Information

2. If “yes” to #1, was the head-of-household a work-eligible member of the assistance unit in the review month?

A work-eligible individual is an adult (or minor head-of-household) receiving assistance under TANF or a Separate State Program or a non-recipient parent living with a child receiving such assistance unless the parent is:

- A minor parent and not the head-of-household.
- A non-citizen who is ineligible to receive assistance due to his or her immigration status.
- On a case-by-case basis, a recipient of Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits.
- On a case-by-case basis, a recipient of Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) benefits.
- Providing care for a disabled family member living in the home provided that there is medical documentation to support the need for the parent to remain in the home to care for the disabled family member.
- An individual in a family receiving Maintenance of Effort (MOE)-funded assistance under an approved Tribal TANF program.

An applicant for SSI or SSDI is work-eligible. However, once the individual is approved for SSI or SSDI benefits, he or she is no longer considered to be work-eligible. In these instances, prior reported work eligibility information should be reviewed and revised, if necessary, to indicate the individual is no longer work-eligible. Please note that responses to questions may need to be modified if an individual’s work-eligible status is changed.

Enter “yes” if the head-of-household meets the definition of a work-eligible individual. If the head-of-household does not meet the definition of a work-eligible individual, enter “no.”

3. If “yes” to #2, enter the date of birth for the head-of-household.

Enter the eight-digit code for the date of birth for the adult (or minor child head-of-household) in the format MMDDYYYY. If the county is using Comma Separated Values (CSV), the format must be MM/DD/YYYY.

4. Did the head-of-household participate in any work activities in the review month?

If so, enter “yes” and provide the average number of hours per week of participation during the review month in the appropriate work activity(ies) below. If the head-of-household did not participate during the review month, enter “no.”

For each work activity (below) in which a work-eligible individual participates, determine the average of the actual hours of participation for each week in the report month. To do this, add the number of actual hours for the month and divide by 4.33, then round to the nearest whole number. Enter the average hours per week for each activity. Counties must document and verify all actual participation, excused absences and holidays in each work activity and identify the source of the documentation (in questions #29, #56 and #83). The documentation and verification must be maintained in the case file.

5. Unsubsidized Employment

Unsubsidized employment is full-time or part-time employment in the public or private sector that is not subsidized by TANF or any other public program. Unsubsidized employment includes self-employment as well as recipients whose employers claim a tax credit for hiring economically disadvantaged workers. Only the hours that are paid by the employer are counted as unsubsidized employment.

Apprenticeship programs that allow participants to earn money while they practice the trade under the supervision of a journeyperson and attend classes are also considered unsubsidized employment.

The determination of whether employment is subsidized, or not, depends on whether the employer, rather than the recipient, receives a subsidy.

Net self-employment income is determined by offsetting monthly business expenses, evidenced by receipts submitted by the participant, against monthly gross income from self-employment. Based on current California Work Opportunity and Responsibility to Kids (CalWORKs) eligibility rules, the recipient may choose either actual costs of producing self-employment income or a standard deduction of 40 percent of gross earned income, which will be reported as business expenses for federal data reporting purposes.

The number of countable hours is determined by dividing the net self-employment income by the federal minimum wage; divide by 4.33, then round to the nearest whole number.

Participants who are not self-employed, but are paid via in-kind; commission only; per-unit; or paid via cash, without a paystub, are still required to report actual hours of employment. Actual hours of employment may not be obtainable from the employer, but certainly can be obtained by the recipient, and verified by the case manager. If the amount of pay as well as the hourly wage is known, the hours reported by the recipient can be verified by the case manager by comparing the information to determine if the hours appear to be reasonable.

If the county has determined, after reviewing the duties associated with the in-kind activity, that participation in this type of activity will assist the individual in attaining self-sufficiency and has included the in-kind income activity in the individual's welfare-to-work plan, the hours of participation may be counted under the appropriate activity. These hours should be readily identifiable, on an ongoing basis, through the review of the duties, as well as discussions with the recipient and monitoring of the individual's participation to determine his or her compliance with CalWORKs welfare-to-work requirements. Only when these requirements are met, can the hours reported by the recipient be verified by the case manager by comparing the information to determine if the hours appear to be reasonable. Actual hours of employment may not be obtainable from the employer, but certainly can be obtained from the recipient and verified by the case manager.

Hours of participation in various barrier removal activities, such as mental health, substance abuse, and/or rehabilitative services, can count under this activity if they are integrated parts of unsubsidized employment. Individuals must be paid for all of the hours they participate in such activities that are counted as unsubsidized employment. If the individuals are not paid while participating in these activities, the participation will be reported as another appropriate activity such as job search and job readiness assistance.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month.

6. Subsidized Private Sector Employment

Subsidized private sector employment means employment in the private sector for which the employer receives a subsidy from TANF or other public funds to offset some or all of the wages and costs of employing a work-eligible individual.

Subsidized work may include: (1) work supplementation where TANF funds that would otherwise be paid as assistance are paid to the employer or to a third-party contractor, like a temporary staffing agency, which serves as the employer of record and is paid a fee to cover salary, expenses and success in placing employees; (2) supported work for individuals with disabilities in an integrated setting; (3) work study activities; or (4) paid barrier removal and educational activities. Only the hours that are paid by the employer are counted as subsidized employment.

Subsidized employment is distinguished from work experience in that the participant in subsidized employment is paid wages and receives the same benefits as an employee with no subsidy who performs similar work.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month.

7. Subsidized Public Sector Employment

Subsidized public sector employment means employment in the public sector for which the employer receives a subsidy from TANF or other public funds to offset some or all of the wages and costs of employing a work-eligible individual.

Subsidized work may include: (1) work supplementation where TANF funds that would otherwise be paid as assistance are paid to the employer or to a third-party contractor, like a temporary staffing agency, which serves as the employer of record and is paid a fee to cover salary, expenses and success in placing employees; (2) supported work for individuals with disabilities in an integrated setting; (3) work study activities; or (4) paid barrier removal and educational activities. Only the hours that are paid by the employer are counted as subsidized employment.

Subsidized employment is distinguished from work experience in that the participant in subsidized employment is paid wages and receives the same benefits as an employee with no subsidy who performs similar work.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month.

8. Work Experience

Work experience is a training activity performed in the public or private sector, including a nonprofit, community-based or faith-based setting, that helps provide basic job skills, enhances existing job skills in a position related to the participant's experience or provides a needed community service that shall lead to unsubsidized employment. Core hours shall be limited as follows:

- When the assistance unit includes CalFresh recipients, federally known as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), all the aided individuals shall participate for no more than the number of hours of each month, determined collectively for the assistance unit, equal to the CalWORKs grant plus the SNAP allotment divided by the state or federal minimum wage, whichever is higher.*
- When the assistance unit does not include CalFresh recipients, all the aided individuals shall participate for not more than the number of hours each month, determined collectively for the assistance unit, equal to the CalWORKs grant divided by the state or federal minimum wage, whichever is higher.*
- When work-eligible individuals are not a member of the assistance unit (not aided), the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) provisions do not apply. Report the actual hours of participation for each of these individuals.*

If the actual hours of participation in work experience and community service is short of the family's core hourly requirement but is equal to, or greater than the calculated hours, the family will be deemed to have met the core hourly requirement. No more than the number of hours derived from the calculation will be allowed to count toward participation.

Hours of participation in various barrier removal activities, such as mental health, substance abuse, and/or rehabilitative services, will count under this activity if they are integrated parts of work experience.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month, including rounded excused absence and holiday hours that are counted as actual participation. Divide actual number of hours of participation by 4.33 to get a weekly average number of hours; round to the nearest whole number.

9. Did the head of household participate for at least the number of hours based on the FLSA calculation required for participation in Work Experience for the All Families rate?

If the actual number of hours of participation for this individual in question #8 is equal to or greater than the maximum allowable hours under FLSA rules calculation, enter "yes." If not, enter "no." Please note: FLSA Deeming rules do not apply to work-eligible individuals that are not aided in the AU. Actual hours of participation must be reported for these individuals.

If "yes," the remaining number of hours needed to meet the core hourly requirement will be "deemed."

10. Did the family participate for at least the number of hours based on the FLSA calculation required for participation in work experience for the Two-Parent rate?

If the actual number of hours of participation for the family in question #8 is equal to or greater than the maximum allowable hours under the FLSA rules calculation, enter "yes." If not, enter "no." Please note: FLSA Deeming rules do not apply to work-eligible individuals that are not aided in the AU. Actual hours of participation must be reported for these individuals.

If "yes," the remaining number of hours needed to meet the core hourly requirement for the family will be "deemed."

11. On-The-Job Training

On-the-job training is training in the public or private sector that is given to a paid employee while he or she is engaged in productive work. On-the-job training provides knowledge and skills essential to the full and adequate performance of the job. The employer is subsidized to offset training costs.

Supported work may be counted as on-the-job training if it includes significant training in the skills and knowledge essential to job performance. On-the-job training may also include orientation and classroom instruction required by the recipient's employer and/or case manager. In some instances, training (e.g., tax preparation) or continuing education (e.g., nursing) is a necessary and regular element of employment. Only the hours that are paid by the employer are counted as on-the-job training.

On-the-job training may include participation in these types of activities when the individual is reimbursed for the training costs. When the individual is not reimbursed for training costs, the participation counts as job skills training directly related to employment, education directly related to employment, vocational education training or job search/job readiness assistance, as appropriate.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month.

12. Job Search and Job Readiness Assistance

Job search is an activity in which the participant's principal activity is to prepare for or seek employment. Job search includes looking for suitable job openings, making contact with potential employers, applying for vacancies and interviewing for jobs. Job readiness assistance is an activity that provides the recipient with training to learn basic job seeking and interviewing skills, to understand employer expectations and to learn skills designed to enhance an individual's capacity to move toward self-sufficiency. Job readiness assistance also comprises the following activities:

- a. Preparing an individual to obtain or retain employment, such as preparing a résumé or job application, interviewing skills, instruction in work place expectations and life skills training.*
- b. Substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment or rehabilitation activities. Treatment or rehabilitation services can include residential treatment, group or individual therapy or participation in support groups such as Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous.*
- c. On a case-by-case basis, domestic abuse services that address barriers to employment.*

Treatment and services for domestic abuse victims include the following activities when needed to seek or prepare for employment: individual counseling of the participant and children; group counseling; substance abuse services; medical and public health services; mental health services; independent living skills; and financial planning and life skills training.

The criteria professionals use for assigning individuals to these services is that the services must be necessary to prepare an individual to obtain or maintain employment or to participate in welfare-to-work (WTW) activities and must be verified and documented in the WTW plan and/or case file. If a portion of the treatment or rehabilitation activities meets a common-sense definition of another work activity, such as community service or work experience, then the hours associated with the “work” will count under that activity and the actual treatment hours will count in job search and job readiness assistance.

- d. Drug testing for a specific job classification and taking tests to qualify for specialized certificates. These activities are assigned to the extent that they are determined necessary for the participant to obtain or prepare for employment or to participate in other WTW activities.*
- e. Participation in orientation, appraisal or assessment. Orientation is an introduction to the WTW program, including a general description of CalWORKs activities, participation requirements, and consequences for failing to meet requirements, available supportive services and exemptions from participation.*

Appraisal is an evaluation of an individual’s employment history and skills, necessary supportive services and any other relevant information needed to assign an individual to WTW activities, as well as informing the individual of his or her rights and responsibilities pertaining to the program.

Assessment is a thorough individual review of the recipient’s work history, employment skills, educational history, competency levels, need for supportive services, physical limitations or mental conditions, available resources, all in comparison to the local labor market conditions, in order to complete a WTW plan.

- f. Time spent online in distance learning activities. Online tasks could include searching for job vacancies, submitting résumés and completing applications.*

Hours spent in these activities are verified and documented in the WTW plan. Job interviews may be obtained from participating in this activity. Reasonable transportation time between job interviews, but not to the first interview or from the last one of the day, will count toward job search and job readiness hours. A county may require additional documentation of activities, which may include such documents as job contact logs that provide sufficient information to verify the job search activity, mileage logs or other documentation and verification, which must be included in the case file.

Job search and job readiness activities are limited to no more than four consecutive weeks and up to six weeks total in the preceding 12-month period. The six-week limit is based on the average number of hours per week required for a family to count in the overall participation rate. Thus, the six-week limit equates to 120 hours and 180 hours, respectively. For the limit of no more than four consecutive weeks, a week is seven consecutive days and is not converted to hours.

Reporting any hours in a week uses a week of participation. Refer to Attachment 2, under Limits on Counting Job Search and Job Readiness Assistance, for more information.

If participation in other federally allowable activities meets or exceeds the core hourly participation requirement, then the hours of participation in job search and job readiness assistance would be reported in ‘Other Work Activities’ and not count toward the four-week or six-week limit. Participation hours in job search and job readiness assistance that exceed the four-week and six-week limit in a 12-month period would also be reported in ‘Other Work Activities.’

Participation hours in job search and job readiness assistance that do not, alone or when combined with hours of another core activity, meet the federal core and overall hourly participation requirements for the family must be reported in ‘Other Work Activities.’ Note: Job search and job readiness assistance may only count as a core activity; there is no countable non-core activity equivalent for job search and job readiness. For purposes of determining if hours should count in this category, two-parent families are considered to be meeting requirements by participating 35 average weekly hours, of which 30 are core hours; single parents with a child under six years old are considered to be meeting requirements by participating 20 average weekly core hours; all other families are considered to be meeting requirements by participating 30 average weekly hours, of which 20 are core hours.

A full week of participation may be calculated based on the average daily hours for three or four days. For this calculation, a week is five days. The average hours of participation during three or four days may be applied to the remaining one or two days in the week to determine the total hours for a week. This calculation is the only exception to reporting actual hours and its use is limited to once in a 12-month period. If the calculation is used, the case file must indicate that weekly hours were based on the average number of hours for three or four days.

For those months when California either (1) has an unemployment rate at least 50 percent greater than the unemployment rate of the United States; or (2) meets the definition of a “needy State,” the limit on an individual’s participation in job search and job readiness assistance may be increased from six-weeks to a maximum of 12 weeks in the preceding 12-month period. Any increase in the maximum number of weeks of job search and job readiness assistance is permitted only on a case-by-case basis and only for months when California meets the above criteria. It is important to note that the determination of whether a state meets the criteria is made late in the month following the month of qualification. If, at that time, it is discovered that weeks of job search and job readiness assistance were incorrectly counted, the participation rate data must be adjusted for the month. Refer to the following ACF website for information on whether California qualifies for counting these additional weeks on a monthly basis:

<http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/ofa/resource/12wks-qualifiers>

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month, including rounded excused absence and holiday hours that are counted as actual participation.

13. Of the hours reported in question #12, how many hours of participation were in mental health services?

If a portion of the treatment meets a common-sense definition of another work activity, such as community service or work experience, then the hours associated with the “work” will count under that activity and the actual treatment hours will count in job search and job readiness assistance.

Enter the weekly average number of hours the individual participated in mental health services even if the number of hours in question #12 was zero, which could occur due to exceeding the four-week or six-week (hourly) limit for participation in job search and job readiness assistance. These hours are reported for Pay-for-Performance purposes.

14. Of the hours reported in question #12, how many hours of participation were in substance abuse services?

If a portion of the treatment meets a common-sense definition of another work activity, such as community service or work experience, then the hours associated with the “work” will count under that activity and the actual treatment hours will count in job search and job readiness assistance.

Enter the weekly average number of hours the individual participated in substance abuse services even if the number of hours in question #12 was zero. These hours are reported for Pay-for-Performance purposes.

15. Of the hours reported in question #12, how many hours of participation were in domestic violence services?

If a portion of the treatment meets a common-sense definition of another work activity, such as community service or work experience, then the hours associated with the “work” will count under that activity and the actual treatment hours will count in job search and job readiness assistance.

Enter the weekly average number of hours the individual participated in domestic violence services even if the number of hours in question #12 was zero. These hours are reported for Pay-for-Performance purposes.

16. Community Service Programs

Community service is a training activity that is temporary and transitional, is performed in the public or private nonprofit sector and provides participants with basic job skills that can lead to employment while meeting a community need. Other activities may be included within the community service programs. In these situations, short-term training or equivalent activities are included if they are of limited duration (usually no longer than six months) and are necessary for participation in the community service activity.

Participation in self-initiated community service programs is permitted as long as the activity is temporary and transitional, is performed in the public or private nonprofit sector, provides basic job skills that may lead to employment while meeting a community need and is approved by the County Welfare Department (CWD). The CWD approves self-initiated community service programs that are appropriate for the participant based on the assessment of the following:

- The participant's work history and an inventory of his or her employment skills, knowledge and abilities.*
- The participant's educational history and present educational competency level.*
- An evaluation of the chances for employment given the current skills of the participant and the local labor market conditions.*

Core hours shall be limited as follows:

- When the AU includes CalFresh recipients, federally known as SNAP, all of the aided individuals shall participate for no more than the number of hours of each month, determined collectively for the assistance unit, equal to the CalWORKs grant plus the SNAP allotment divided by the state or federal minimum wage, whichever is higher.*
- When the AU does not include CalFresh recipients, all the aided individuals shall participate for not more than the number of hours each month, determined collectively for the assistance unit, equal to the CalWORKs grant divided by the state or federal minimum wage, whichever is higher.*
- When work-eligible individuals are not a member of the AU (not aided), the FLSA provisions do not apply. Report the actual hours of participation for each of these individuals.*

If the actual hours of participation in work experience and community service falls short of the family's core hourly requirement but are equal to or greater than the calculated hours, the family will be deemed to have met the core hourly requirement. No more than the number of hours derived from the calculation will be allowed to count toward participation.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month, including rounded excused absence and holiday hours that are counted as actual participation. Divide actual number of hours of participation by 4.33 to get a weekly average number of hours; round to the nearest whole number.

17. Did the head of household participate for at least the number of hours based on the FLSA calculation required for participation in community service for the All Families rate?

If the actual number of hours of participation for this individual in question #16 is equal to or greater than the maximum allowable hours under FLSA rules calculation, enter "yes." If not, enter "no." Please note: FLSA Deeming rules do not apply to work-eligible individuals that are not aided in the AU. Actual hours of participation must be reported for these individuals.

If "yes," the number of hours needed to meet the core hourly requirement will be "deemed."

18. Did this family participate for at least the number of hours based on the FLSA calculation required for participation in community service for the Two-Parent rate?

If the total actual number of hours of participation for the family in question #16 is equal to or greater than the maximum allowable hours under the FLSA rules calculation, enter "yes." If not, enter "no." Please note: FLSA Deeming rules do not apply to work-eligible individuals that are not aided in the AU. Actual hours of participation must be reported for these individuals.

If "yes," the remaining number of hours needed to meet the core hourly requirement for the family will be "deemed."

19. Vocational Education Training

For federal data reporting purposes, vocational education training is organized educational programs that are directly related to the preparation of individuals for employment in current or emerging occupations. Vocational education must be provided by vocational-technical schools, postsecondary institutions or proprietary schools.

Vocational education training placements are documented on a list developed by each California county. The list, which is revised annually, includes programs that lead to jobs in the local labor market and is used by the CWD to approve vocational education training and/or to assign activities as a result of assessment. For programs not on the county's list, the CWD determines if the program is directly related to job preparation.

Basic and remedial education and English as a Second Language (ESL) are counted as part of vocational education training activity on a case-by-case basis when the participant's educational history and present educational competency level assessment shows a need for such activities to be included in the vocational education program for the participant to be successful. For example, Vocational English as a Second Language (VESL) is an embedded activity that allows non-native English speakers to learn the language that is specific to and necessary for successful performance in a particular vocation. The service provider and/or the recipient's case manager will determine whether the activities are necessary for successful participation.

In some instances, the vocational education training is completed as part of distance learning. Participation counts toward vocational education training hours only when the time spent is monitored by the service provider and reported to the CWD.

Verification of hours spent in class time must confirm that the individual was enrolled in all the classes for which hours were reported and that the hours of reported class time for the month correspond to the individual's class schedule. For example, if a client provided documentation, such as a time sheet, of 12 hours spent in class time for a week, then verification of those hours could include a schedule or printout that shows current enrollment in the educational institution.

*Actual hours spent in supervised homework time and up to one hour of unsupervised homework time for each hour of class time may be counted. A statement from the educational program indicating the amount of homework required must be included in the case file. Total homework time counted as participation must not exceed the hours required or advised by the educational program. Additional homework time verification guidance is provided in Attachment 1: Homework Time.

This activity has a federal lifetime limit of 12 months beginning December 1, 1996.

If participation in other federally allowable activities meets or exceeds the core hourly participation requirement, then the hours of participation in vocational education training would be reported in 'Other Work Activities' and not count toward the 12-month limit.

Before or after the 12-month limit, this activity may qualify as education directly related to employment (if the individual does not have a high school diploma or General Educational Development [GED] certificate) or job skills training directly related to employment only after the core hourly requirement has been met from participation in other core activities.

Participation hours in vocational education that do not, alone or when combined with hours of another activity, meet the federal core and overall hourly participation requirements for the family must be reported in 'Other Work Activities.' For purposes of determining if hours should count in this category, two-parent families are considered to be meeting requirements by participating 35 average weekly hours, of which 30 are core hours; single parents with a child under six years old are considered to be meeting requirements by participating 20 average weekly core hours; all other families are considered to be meeting requirements by participating 30 average weekly hours, of which 20 are core hours.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month, including rounded excused absence and holiday hours that are counted as actual participation.

20. Job Skills Training Directly Related to Employment

For federal data reporting purposes, job skills training directly related to employment is training or education for job skills required by an employer to provide an individual with the ability to obtain employment or to advance or adapt to the changing demands of the workplace. The activity may include either customized or general training to prepare an individual for employment, including literacy and language instruction and other remedial education. Job skills training directly related to employment may include four-year bachelor degree programs at any state-certified college or university.

Vocational education hours will count under this activity, provided that the core hourly requirement is met through other activities, in order to preserve months in which vocational education is countable as a core activity or to continue education programs beyond the 12-month limit for vocational education.

In some instances, the job skills training is completed as part of distance learning. Participation counts toward job skills training directly related to employment only when the distance learning program otherwise meets the definition of job skills training directly related to employment and the time spent online can be monitored by the service provider and reported to the CWD and documented in the case file.

Verification of hours spent in class time must confirm that the individual was enrolled in all the classes for which hours were reported and that the hours of reported class time for the month correspond to the individual's class schedule. For example, if a client provided documentation, such as a time sheet, of 12 hours spent in class time for a week, then verification of those hours could include a schedule or printout that shows current enrollment in the educational institution.

Actual hours spent in supervised homework time and up to one hour of unsupervised homework time for each hour of class time may be counted. A statement from the educational program indicating the amount of homework required must be included in the case file. Total homework time counted as participation must not exceed the hours required or advised by the educational program. Additional homework time verification guidance is provided in Attachment 1: Homework Time.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month, including rounded excused absence and holiday hours that are counted as actual participation.

21. Education Directly Related to Employment (for head-of-household with no High School diploma or certificate of High School Equivalency)

For federal data reporting purposes, education directly related to employment is education related to a specific occupation, job or job offer. The activity is primarily for adults without a high school diploma or certificate of high school equivalency and includes adult basic education, ESL and, where required as a prerequisite for employment, education leading to a GED certificate or high school equivalency diploma.

Vocational education hours will count under this activity, provided that the core hourly requirement is met through other activities, in order to preserve months in which vocational education is countable as a core activity or to continue education programs beyond the 12-month limit for vocational education.

In some instances, the education directly related to employment is completed as part of distance learning. Participation will count toward education directly related to employment only when the distance learning program otherwise meets the definition of the activity and the time spent in distance learning is monitored by the service provider and is reported to the CWD and documented in the case file. Homework time that can be documented and verified may also be counted.

Actual hours spent in supervised homework time and up to one hour of unsupervised homework time for each hour of class time may be counted. A statement from the educational program indicating the amount of homework required must be included in the case file. Total homework time counted as participation must not exceed the hours required or advised by the educational program. Additional homework time verification guidance is provided in Attachment 1: Homework Time.

In order to count hours of participation, participants must make good or satisfactory progress as determined by the CWD. In general, attendance, academic performance and completion timeframes may be included in the criteria for good or satisfactory progress. Satisfactory progress is monitored monthly by the CWD and the documentation is verified and maintained in the participant's case file, except for teen parent heads-of-household receiving Cal-Learn services, whose progress are monitored up to four times per school year.

Exception: If a participant is not making good or satisfactory progress but is regularly attending, up to two months of participation may be counted for such individual while the county works with the participant to improve his or her participation and progress. A statement that documents this decision must be included in the case file.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month, including rounded excused absence and holiday hours that are counted as actual participation.

22. Satisfactory School Attendance (for head-of-household without a high school diploma or certificate of high school equivalency)

For federal data reporting purposes, satisfactory school attendance is regular attendance, in accordance with the requirements of the secondary school or course of study, at a secondary school or in a course of study leading to a certificate of general equivalence, in the case of a recipient who has not completed secondary school or received such a certificate. Satisfactory school attendance is primarily an activity for minor parents and will only include other related educational activities, such as adult basic education or language instruction, when they are required for completion of a GED certificate. Hours of participation attending high school in a vocational education track may be counted under this activity.

In addition, case management services are provided to minor parents in this activity. Case management involves directing and coordinating a recipient's educational, health and social services and may include ESL, career training, alternative school, tutoring, dropout prevention and teen pregnancy or parenting programs. The case management programs are essential to this work category in that they address the special social service needs of minor parents. Meeting these specific needs helps this group of recipients attain GED certificate or attend secondary school, which helps minor parents achieve self-sufficiency.

In some instances, participation will be completed as part of distance learning and will count toward satisfactory school attendance only when the distance learning program otherwise meets the definition of the activity and the time spent can be monitored by the service provider and is reported to the CWD on a monthly basis. Participants must provide routinely available documentation of school attendance and satisfactory progress. Actual hours of participation are verified using report cards, attendance records and similar documentation made available by the service provider and/or participant and maintained in the case file. Documentation needed to support all the reported hours of participation includes the participant's name; the name of the employer, work site supervisor or other service provider; the number of hours; and the name and phone number of the person verifying the hours.

Actual hours spent in supervised homework time and up to one hour of unsupervised homework time for each hour of class time may be counted. A statement from the educational program indicating the amount of homework required must be included in the case file. Total homework time counted as participation must not exceed the hours required or advised by the educational program. Additional homework time verification guidance is provided in Attachment 1: Homework Time.

Case managers who have reason to believe that a participant is not attending school can require that specific documentation and verification be provided more often, as necessary.

In order to count as hours of participation, participants must make “good or satisfactory progress” as determined by the CWD. In general, attendance, academic performance and completion timeframes may be included in the standard for good or satisfactory progress. Satisfactory progress is monitored monthly by the CWD and the documentation is verified and maintained in the participant’s case file except for teen parent heads of household receiving Cal-Learn services, whose progress is monitored up to four times per school year.

Exceptions:

- a) If a participant is not making good or satisfactory progress but is regularly attending, up to two months of participation may be counted for such an individual while the county works with the participant to improve his or her participation and progress. A statement that documents this decision must be included in the case file.*
- b) Although satisfactory school attendance is determined by the CWD, general guidance is provided for data reporting during summer vacation. Satisfactory progress and participation may count, regardless of the number of hours of participation, if the participant:*

- 1. Did not complete the basic education program requirements.*
- 2. And, are enrolled or intend to enroll as a full-time student after the school vacation.*

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month, including rounded excused absence and holiday hours that are counted as actual participation. If satisfactory school attendance, as determined by the CWD, was made during the report period (summer vacation), but there are zero hours of participation, enter one hour of participation to allow E2Lite to properly deem the hours of participation.

23. Providing Childcare for an Individual(s) Participating in a Community Service Program

For federal data reporting purposes, providing childcare to an individual participating in community services is providing childcare to enable another TANF recipient to participate in a community service program. The activity does not allow for one parent in a two-parent case to care for their own children in the home while the other participates in activities. In most situations, this activity would be reported as unsubsidized employment.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month, including rounded excused absence and holiday hours that are counted as actual participation.

24. Work Activities Other Than Those Specified Above

For federal data reporting purposes, other work activities are: (1) actual hours of participation in activities that do not meet the definitions provided above, or (2) actual hours of participation in allowable activities whose hours are not countable toward the participation rates (e.g., job search hours that exceed the four-week, six-week or 12-week [hourly] limit). Participation hours in job search and job readiness, vocational education, job skills training or education directly related to employment will be reported in this activity when the client is not meeting the core hourly requirement. Counties are strongly encouraged to report actual hours of participation in "other" activities.

Enter the weekly average of the actual number of hours of participation in the month. These hours will not count in the work participation rate.

25. Was the head-of-household a single custodial parent/caretaker relative with a child under six years old in the review month?

Enter "yes," if the head-of-household was a single custodial parent with a child under six years old in the review month. If the head-of-household was not a single custodial parent or did not have a child under six years old, enter "no." The child must be under six years old as of the first of the review month.

26. If "yes" to question #25, was the head-of-household eligible for the federal work disregard for a single custodial parent with a child under 12 months old in the review month?

If the head-of-household is a single custodial parent with a child under 12 months of age, the family may be eligible to be disregarded from the rate. The single custodial parent is eligible for a disregard for up to 12 months. This disregard is a cumulative, lifetime limit of 12 months, beginning December 1, 1996, for any single custodial parent, but not necessarily a one-time disregard. If the single custodial parent meets this definition and did not meet federal participation requirements by participating in the required number of hours in allowable work activities, enter "yes." A "yes" answer may disregard the adult from the work participation rate calculation.

If the head-of-household does not meet this definition, has already been disregarded from the rate for 12 months or is meeting participation requirements by participating the required number of hours in allowable work activities, enter "no." A "no" answer will include the adult in the WPR calculation.

The age of any child on the first day of the month is the age of the child for the review month. If a child is born on the first day of the month, the family has a child under age one for that month. If a child is born after the first day of the month, the family is not considered to have a child under age one until the subsequent month. For example, a family with a child born on December 1, 2010, will be considered to have a child under age one for the months of December 2010 through November 2011. If the child was born on December 5, 2010, then the family would have a child under age one for the months of January through December 2011. In both situations, the family will be treated as having a child under age one for twelve months.

27. Was the head-of-household granted a good cause waiver for the Family Violence Option?

Enter "yes," if the head-of-household was granted a good cause waiver for the Family Violence Option in the review month. If not, enter "no."

28. Is the head-of-household currently not aided due to a CalWORKs WTW sanction?

If the head-of-household was sanctioned for noncompliance with the CalWORKs welfare-to-work (WTW) program requirements during the review month, enter "yes." If not, enter "no."

29. If "yes" to question #28, has the family been sanctioned more than three months in the preceding 12-month period?

Enter "no," if both of the following are true:

a. The head-of-household was sanctioned in the review month.

b. And, the family has not been sanctioned for more than three months in the preceding 12-month period.

- 1) The total number of months in which any work-eligible adult in the family was granted a work-related sanction must not be greater than three for the preceding 12 months.*

- 2) Multiple adult sanctions in a single month are considered one month of sanction for the family.

Otherwise, enter “yes.”

A “no” response allows the family to be disregarded from one or both of the rate calculations for the review month. In order for a family to be disregarded, at least one (but not every) work-eligible adult in the family needs to be currently sanctioned. In addition, the number of months of sanction for the entire family must be three or fewer months over the preceding 12 months.

The answer entered here will also populate question #58 and question #87.

30. Was the head-of-household verifiably exempt from participation in CalWORKs WTW activities in the review month?

If the head-of-household has been provided a CalWORKs WTW exemption according to Manual of Policies and Procedures (MPP) section 42-712, enter “yes.” If no exemption has been provided and documented in the case file, enter “no.” This information is for Pay-for-Performance purposes.

31. Case Comments

Identify the individual (A1, A2, A3), the work activity and the verifiable source of documentation for hours of participation that have been reported and documented, such as hours of participation from pay stubs, time sheets, attendance records or similar documentation made available by the service provider and/or participant and maintained in the case file. If applicable, describe or comment on hours of participation entered in question #24.

Information entered here will appear in question #60 and question #89. Once information is entered in question #60 or question #89 it will also be seen here.

Adult Two Information

32. Was there another adult in the household who was a work-eligible member of the assistance unit in the review month?

Please refer to the instruction for the head-of-household in data element #2 and apply appropriately to this adult in the assistance unit.

33. If “yes” to question #32, enter the date of birth of the adult.

Please refer to the instruction for the head-of-household in data element #3 and apply appropriately to this adult in the assistance unit.

34. Does this case meet the definition of a two-parent family?

A two-parent family, for federal data reporting purposes, is a family with two work-eligible, natural, adoptive parents or a step-parent of the same minor child living in the home, unless both are minors and neither is a head-of-household.

However, if one (or both) of the parents is disabled, the family is not considered a two-parent family for federal work participation rate purposes. Consequently, the case is not included in the denominator of the two-parent participation rate. Instead, the case is considered an all-families case and will be included in determining only the county's overall (all-families) work participation rate.

Enter "yes," if this case should be included in the two-parent rate. Enter "no," if this case should not be included in the two-parent rate. The answer to this question will also appear in question #63.

35. Did the adult participate in any work activities in the review month?

If "yes," the remaining number of hours needed to meet the core hourly requirement will be "deemed."

COUNTY TEMPORARY ASSISTANCE FOR NEEDY FAMILIES (TANF) WORK PARTICIPATION RATE (WPR) SAMPLE INFORMATION FOR FEDERAL FISCAL YEAR 2016

The TANF Federal Sample is the basis for the calculation of California's official TANF WPRs that are used to determine federal TANF penalties and program characteristics. It is an annual sample that is valid only on a statewide basis and includes work participation and other demographic and program data regarding TANF families.

The Federal Sample is a statewide annual sample which is used by the federal Administration for Children and Families (ACF) and the California Department of Social Services (CDSS) to calculate the Federal Overall (All Families) and the Federal Two-Parent (2P) TANF WPRs. (Please refer to All County Information Notice [ACIN] I-32-07E for further guidance regarding the calculation of WPRs.) Because the Federal Sample is a statewide sample, it does not include a sufficient number of cases for each county to provide statistically valid and distinct county WPRs. As a result, an additional county-specific sample is drawn. The Federal Sample and the County Sample are combined in order to calculate statistically valid County WPRs. Similar to the Federal Sample, the combined Federal and County Samples are only valid on an annual basis. Counties receive quarterly County WPR data files, error reports and work participation reports via e-mail in order to reconcile County WPRs. Cases without TANF or state TANF Maintenance of Effort (MOE) funding are not reviewed.

Currently, two data collection systems are used to collect the data. The Research and Development Enterprise Project (RADEP) is used to collect data for the Federal Sample. The Enterprise II Lite (E2L) is used to collect data for the County Sample.

1. The RADEP collects data for the Federal Sample in order to fulfill federal data reporting requirements for the TANF program. The information in RADEP consists of case characteristics and work participation data.
2. The E2L collects county-specific work participation data based on TANF data reporting requirements for the County Sample. The data in E2L consists of work participation related data only.

Sample Design

The sample design and methodology are based on the current federally approved TANF sampling plan. Both samples are drawn from the Medi-Cal Eligibility Data System (MEDS) file. The monthly sample frames are determined by TANF aid codes and eligibility status codes from MEDS. The frames consist of all cases that are eligible for TANF assistance in each review month, including Kinship Guardianship Assistance Payment (Kin-GAP) program cases¹. Each month, once the cases for the TANF Federal Sample are drawn, additional county-specific samples are drawn from the corresponding sample frames with the previously selected federal sample cases removed. This is to ensure that the previously selected federal sample cases do not have more than one chance to be selected into the samples. The cases from the Federal and County Samples are combined to calculate the County WPRs.

In order to provide counties with the maximum time allowed to collect the necessary data for both samples, ongoing active cases are drawn in two stages for a particular review month. For a particular review month, the Federal and County Samples are drawn during the month prior to the review month. These ongoing active cases are the primary cases for the review month.

Supplemental cases are ongoing active cases that received aid during the review month but were not identified in the MEDS file when the primary cases were drawn. Typically, they are cases that are discontinued from eligibility during the review month and have benefits retroactively, or are approved after the cutoff date for the primary sample. The supplemental sample is drawn near the end of the month following the review month and is combined with the primary cases to represent the complete sample for the review month and produce the monthly WPRs.

Secondary cases consist of newly approved cases from the Federal Sample. Similar to the methodology for identifying supplemental cases, the look-back period is one month to find secondary cases. Secondary cases will be found in both the Federal and County Samples, but because regulations require the Federal Sample to be stratified for newly approved cases, these cases will have a "B" in the case review number in RADEP.

The following is a description of the two types of samples that are drawn:

1. Federal Sample:

The active Federal Sample is an annual statewide stratified sample with a minimum of 3,000 cases that are the basis for the federal statewide TANF WPR calculations and other demographic information used to evaluate the TANF program. The sample is drawn on a monthly basis, with approximately 1/12 of the total samples drawn each month. It is statistically valid only on an annual statewide basis. In accordance with federal requirements, the active sample consists of three strata with minimum completed case samples of:

¹ To maintain consistency with the federal sampling methodology, Kin-Gap cases are included in all sample frames and included in the calculation of case weights. But by definition, they are excluded from the WPR calculations.

- 1) 600 primary and supplemental ongoing 2P cases (review type “C”).
- 2) 1,800 primary and supplemental ongoing non-2P cases (review type “A”).
- 3) 600 secondary newly approved cases
(combined 2P and non-2P, review type “B”).

Two types of TANF WPRs are calculated from these three stratifications:

- 1) The All Families WPR includes cases from all three stratifications (2P, non-2P and newly approved).
- 2) The 2P WPR only includes 2P cases and newly approved 2P cases. Additionally, federal policies also require states to provide a sample of families no longer receiving assistance (i.e., closed cases). The minimum required annual sample size is 800 closed cases (review type “F”).

2. County Sample:

The County Sample is a county-specific sample of ongoing active cases that excludes any cases already selected for the Federal Sample. This sample is not statistically valid for use by itself for any purpose other than data collection. The cases are drawn in a similar manner as the federal sample but without the “newly approved” stratification. Each county has two types of county sample cases:

- 1) The 2P cases, primary and supplemental, ongoing and newly approved (review type “H”).
- 2) The non-2P cases, primary and supplemental, ongoing and newly approved (review type “G”).

Sample Sizes for the County WPR Calculations

The Federal and County samples are combined to provide enough cases so that valid County WPRs can be calculated. Typically, with the exception of smaller counties, minimum sample sizes are:

1. 600 primary and supplemental ongoing and newly approved 2P cases (review types C, H, B 2P).
2. 1,800 primary and supplemental ongoing and newly approved non-2P cases (review types A, G, B non-2P).

Two types of County WPRs are calculated for each county from these combined stratifications:

1. The All Families County WPR rates, which include 2P and non-2P cases.
2. The 2P County WPR rates, which only include 2P cases.

Monthly Stratum Universe Calculations Using the CA 237CW

The monthly stratum universes are calculated using the cash grant caseloads from the CA 237CW and Kinship Guardianship Assistance Payment (Kin-Gap) case counts from the administrative claim reports. Item 8a from the caseload report provides the total number of TANF cash grant cases, but other line items are used to further divide the caseloads into the categories needed. The identification of 2P/non-2P new applications and restorations caseloads from items 7a and 7b are also used. The formulas in the tables below use the CA 237CW cell references found in the upper left hand corner of each cell in the report. (The Kin-GAP administrative claim caseload will be provided upon written request to the CDSS Federal Data Reporting and Analysis Bureau [FDRAB] county consultant).

Stratum	Code	Universe Formulas using CA 237CW cell numbers	Description
Ongoing 2P	231	64-34-39	Cases receiving cash grant (Part B-Items 8a, Kin-Gap) minus Applications and Restorations (Part B-Items 7a, 7b)
Ongoing non-2P	101	65+66+67-35-36-37-40-41-42+Kin-Gap from administrative claim	Cases receiving cash grant (Part B-Items 8a, Kin-Gap) minus Applications and Restorations (Part B-Items 7a, 7b)
Newly approved 2P	221	34+39	Applications and Restorations-non-2P (Part B-Items 7a, 7b)
Newly approved non-2P	121	35+36+37+40+41+42	Applications and Restorations-non-2P (Part B-Items 7a, 7b)

Weighting of the Samples

Because the County WPR calculation includes samples that are stratified to include sufficient data to produce both All Families and 2P WPRs, a case weighting methodology must be utilized to compensate for disproportionate sampling of the sub-groups (strata). Each county has its own set of monthly case weights that are associated with each completed case and must be used when analyzing the data. The case weights are dependent on how the case was sampled (stratum), the sample month and the stratum caseload for the month and are subject to change whenever any of these variables change.

Since both county and federal data collection systems are based on stratified samples of active TANF cases, the samples must be weighted in order to compensate for disproportionate sampling from the various strata found on Attachment 4, pages 2 and 3. Each county has its own set of monthly case weights that are applied to each completed sample case, depending on how it was sampled (or stratum), the month it was sampled and the stratum caseload for the sample month. County and Federal case weights for a sample month are calculated in relation to the respective overall caseload for the month.

The case weights are determined by dividing the county's stratum caseloads (as determined by the county's monthly TANF cash grant caseload from the CA 237CW and the Kin-GAP administrative claim report) by the corresponding number of completed cases in each stratum for the county's sample month. This methodology is based upon the Federal Sample design. The Kin-GAP administrative claim caseload will be provided upon written request to the FDRAB county consultant.

The actual calculation of the weights is complex. The stratification of "newly approved" (review type "B") cases in the Federal Sample requires that the County WPR case weights be adjusted so that they do not disproportionately affect the WPR calculations or any data analysis. However, since many counties will not always have newly approved federal sample cases (review type "B") in a sample month, multiple sets of formulas are necessary.

In FFY 2012, the weighting methodology was expanded to ensure that case weights represent the way Federal and County Samples are drawn. This expansion has little or no effect on county work participation rates. The methodology includes:

- Weights that are controlled for by the proportion of completed federal and county cases. As a result, larger weights will be placed on the source (federal or county) with more completed cases.
- Three different weights are applied to the three different data sets: federal only, county only and federal and county combined. These weights are designed to reflect the four possible scenarios in which a sample is drawn:

Scenario 1:

All case types are from the County Sample only.

Scenario 2:

Ongoing cases are from both the County and Federal Samples; there are no Newly Approved cases from the Federal Sample.

Scenario 3:

All case types are from both the County and Federal Samples.

Scenario 4:

All case types are from the County Sample and Newly Approved cases are from the Federal Sample; there are no Ongoing federal cases.

A completed case is defined as a case that received TANF assistance for the sample month. For cases from the Federal Sample, this means RADEP data element T9="1"; for cases from the County Sample, it means E2Lite Question #1="yes."

A newly approved case is one that received TANF assistance for the sample month but not in the two months prior to the sample month. An ongoing case is one that receives aid for the sample month and prior month(s). Monthly reconciliation comma separated values (CSV) files include stratum codes and completed case indicators so that calculation of the case weights may be verified.

The County Sample is drawn in a similar manner as the Federal Sample but without the “newly approved” stratification. In the County Sample, each county has only two types of sampled cases — non-2P cases (review type “G”) and “two-parent” family cases (review type “H”).

The steps for establishing the monthly County WPR case weights for each scenario are as follows (the steps for calculating 2P weights are similar, except that 2P stratum codes are used along with 2P case counts from the CA 237CW):

Scenario 1:

All case types are from the County Sample only.

Stratum code 101: On-going non-2P Cases

Stratum code 121: Newly Approved non-2P Cases

$$W_{101/121} = (U_{101} + U_{121}) / (S_{101} + S_{121})$$

$W_{101/121}$ = Weight for strata codes 101 and 121

U_{101} = Universe for strata codes 101 and 121 (CA237CW non-2P+ Kin-GAP non-2P Admin.)

S_{101} = Samples for strata codes 101 and 121 (Federal & County)

Calculation of the County WPRs

The CDSS FDRAB merges the County Sample data with the Federal Sample data to create the work participation rate database that is used to compute the county-specific All Families (overall rate) and 2P County WPRs. The E2L survey tool or CSV file that is produced from the E2LA tool is not sufficient by itself to calculate County WPRs. (NOTE: This CSV file from the E2LA tool is different from the Monthly WPR Reconciliation CSV file that is sent to counties via email. The Monthly WPR Reconciliation CSV file should be used to calculate a county's County WPR. Please refer to ACIN I-32-07E for further guidance regarding the calculation of WPRs.)

All sample cases are weighted appropriately to remove bias as a result of the over-sampling of 2P families and newly approved cases in the calculation of the work participation rates. Once the case weights are established, each case is analyzed to determine its County WPR.

For your convenience, the last four "weighted numerator/denominator" columns of the Monthly WPR Reconciliation CSV file contains the weighted value of each case (an example is shown in Table 4-6 below) so that the County WPRs can be correctly calculated. The columns labeled "Weighted_Den" and "Weighted_Num" represent the case's contribution to the non-2P denominator and numerator, respectively. The columns labeled "Weighted_Den_2P" and "Weighted_Num_2P" represent the case's contribution to the 2P denominator and 2P numerator, respectively. Up to four different case weights can occur in any one month reflecting the potential four strata as defined in the weighting methodology section, above.

TANF cases with no "work-eligible" persons (including Kin-GAP) are assigned case weights, but are excluded from the WPR calculations. For these cases, zeroes will appear in the weighted numerator/denominator columns.

The following example shows a county with newly approved federal cases in its sample month. This example will demonstrate the occurrence of multiple case weights in the column "Weighted_Den" for the sample.

Example

The January 2011 combined case weights for County A are as follows:

Table 4-5

Stratum	Stratum Code	Case weight
Ongoing, non-2P	101	119.316
Newly approved federal, non-2P	121	56.071
Ongoing, 2P	231	14.918
Newly approved federal, 2P	221	7.889

A partial "WPRdata_A.csv" file for County A appears in Table 4-6. Please note that only a portion of the CSV file is displayed in the example:

- Zeroes in the "Weighted_Den" column indicate that the case was either disregarded from the non-2P denominator, a child-only case or did not receive TANF in January 2011. A zero in the "Weighted_Den_2P" column indicates the case was not a
- two-parent case or was exempt from the two-parent denominator.

Additional Information

Which counties must do the E2L reviews? All counties must do County WPR data reporting.

Who does the E2L reviews? County staff collects and provides the E2L data.

How does the county receive the County Sample? All counties receive their County Samples via the web-based E2L system.

How is the review completed? Data may be entered into the E2L survey tool or transmitted via a CSV file that is produced using the E2LA tool.

County & Federal Sample source (universe): MEDS.

Sample universe: The sample universe includes all active TANF cases, including one parent, two-parent, newly approved, child only cases, (aid codes 30, 32, 33, 35, 38, 3A, 3C, 3E, 3G, 3H, 3L, 3P, 3R, 3U, 3W, 4F, 4H). (NOTE: Work-eligible adults in sampled cases are now subject to reporting. NOTE: Aid codes 3A and 3C were scheduled for discontinuation effective April 2014, but they remain in place for those counties who have not yet made system changes to accommodate the new codes.

County Sample size: Varies by county. Sample sizes are based upon several factors: 1) overall caseload size; 2) proportion of two-parent and non-two-parent caseloads; and 3) the number of federally sampled cases. The sample sizes found in "Attachment 7" of this All County Letter (ACL) provides the sample precisions necessary to calculate work participation rates that are comparable to the federal non-two-parent and two-parent rates when combined with the Federal Sample cases and include allowances for dropped cases. The estimated County WPR sample sizes are listed in the first column of the chart found in Attachment 7. The required minimum number of completed cases is listed in the last column.

100 percent reporting: 100 percent reporting will be based upon TANF-eligible cases found in MEDS.

Who draws the sample? The CDSS FDRAB.

When are the samples drawn? Two sub-samples, non-two-parent and two-parent, are maintained and monitored. The samples are drawn in two phases, primary and supplemental:

- The primary sample is pulled near the end of the month prior to the sample month.
- The secondary sample is pulled near the end of the month following the sample month. The secondary samples consist of families that received aid during the sample month but were not initially selected or in MEDS, due to timing issues.

Review numbers: An eight-digit review number is assigned to each case in the sample for ease of identification and so that the samples may be monitored on a regular basis. An example review number is 12G10428. The format is as follows:

- Two-digit federal fiscal year code (12).
- One-digit sample type indicator (“G” = non-two-parent, “H” = two-parent).
- Two-digit sample month code (01-12).
- Three-digit sequence number (001-999).
- If supplemental review, the three-digit sequence number will be 800-899.

Is there an overlap with the County Sample and the Federal Sample? No. The County Sample does not include any cases from the Federal Sample. The FDRAB will merge the data from the County and the Federal Samples for each county to create a county work participation rate.

Reporting Due Date: Both the primary and secondary samples are due to the state 75 days after the end of the sample month.
