PURPOSE

The California Department of Social Services, Refugee Programs Bureau, created this Resource Guide to help stakeholders and professional refugees as they seek to capitalize on the skills, experience, and motivation of California’s professional refugee and immigrant population to strengthen our state. When talented refugees are provided opportunities to use their potential, everyone wins.

As documented in the Migration Policy Institute’s 2008 report, Uneven Progress: The Employment Pathways of Skilled Immigrants in the United States, many foreign born professionals are significantly underemployed in semi-skilled jobs. This reflects the worst of outcomes, as their home countries suffer the “brain drain” of sending these talented workers abroad, while the U.S. allows widespread “brain waste” of many legal, work-authorized new arrivals.

INTRODUCTION

This Guide is useful to stakeholders, including service providers, collaborators and partners, and professional refugees themselves. Pages one and two provide information about barriers professional refugees face. Tools are provided to assess backgrounds and goals of professional refugees in order to create a plan to return to their former professions.

The Data, Research, and Reports sections provide information to stakeholders to understand the scope and impact of under-employed professionals who are not reaching their full potentials. The Webinars and Power Point sections give stakeholders an opportunity to learn the latest information from practitioners in the field.

The remainder of the guide provides practical resources to locate a program, seek educational funding and scholarships, review recertification guides, locate English language training and educational institutions, find networking and mentoring opportunities, and read of successes of other highly refugees who were once in the same situation.

WHAT ARE THE GOALS?

This resource guide was created to assist stakeholders to address under-employed professionals and link them to appropriate resources.

KEY BARRIERS

Among the key barriers professional refugees face are:

- Lack of access to critical information: practical advice on career re-entry options; help in obtaining a reputable evaluation of their international degree, and skilled and experienced guidance on how to acculturate to the American workplace;
- Complex and difficult-to-navigate licensing and certification pathways;
• Limited access to higher-level vocational and Business English classes that go beyond the basic English offered in community classes;
• Resources for education and work are limited because providing for their families becomes a priority;
• Lack of “Made in America” education and work experience;
• Lack of family/employer engagement/incentives;
• Need for mental health counseling;
• Lack of professional networks and social capital needed for a successful job search; and
• Lack of mentoring and need for a personal sponsor/coach.

EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND

By assessing the individual’s educational background, stakeholders are able to identify the level of education and skills of the refugees.

INDIVIDUAL SERVICE PLAN

The creation of an Individual Service Plan (ISP) ensures that individuals make the appropriate choices, set goals to achieve an education to return to their former professions. (sampleISP).

LINKING TO RESOURCES

Once participants have been assessed and assisted to develop an individual service plan, stakeholders should link refugees with resources so that they can start their journey to self-sufficiency.

EDUCATIONAL ADVANCEMENT

The provision of educational opportunities is one of the highest priorities for professional refugees as education is an important tool in achieving cultural inclusion, academic success and self-sufficiency.

FOLLOW UP AND PAYING BACK

In addition to linking them with the resources, there should be a follow up and an engaging expectation on the refugee professional to pay back by assisting the professional refugee community and serving as a catalyst for the economy.

Below are data, research and reports, program models, webinars and power point presentations, funding and scholarships, recertification guides, English training and adult education resources, mentoring and networking opportunities and success stories for professional refugees and stakeholders to use to address this critical situation.

RESEARCH AND REPORTS

4. Migration and Policy Institute’s main webpage with links to research, reports, and other extensive information about immigration topics.

10. Immigrant Professional Integration (IMPRINT) – various publications and articles.

12. A City of Immigrant Workers: Building a Workforce Strategy to Support All New Yorkers.

WEBINARS AND POWER POINT PRESENTATIONS

5. IMPRINT, “Advancing the Immigrant Integration Agenda: A follow-up from the White House Task Force on New Americans”.

7. Global Talent Search, “Pathways to Success Webinars”.

8. The United States Department of Labor, extensive information on labor market data, job and career information, and a resource library, and other information.

PROGRAM MODELS FOR ASSISTING PROFESSIONAL REFUGEES

Though some of the program models below are outside of California, professional refugees are known to relocate for better opportunities. Also, they can be used as examples of successful programs for replication in local communities.

California Programs

1. Strategically positioned within the City of San Jose Office of Economic Development, work2future addresses the workforce and economic development needs of the local area, in collaboration with small and large businesses, educational institutions and community-based organizations.

2. The Welcome Back Center (San Diego) was developed to aid internationally trained healthcare workers that have moved to California. It offers a wide range of services to immigrant healthcare workers who wish to obtain professional credentials. There is a growing need to provide linguistically and culturally-competent healthcare to many areas of the U.S.

3. The PARS Equality Center in Santa Clara County, California, provides mentoring and career development services for participants with a minimum of a Bachelor’s degree and who have been in the U.S. for less than five years.

4. ImmigrantInfo.org is a collaborative project, sponsored by the Santa Clara County Office of Immigrant Relations and the South Bay Consortium of Adult Education. http://immigrantinfo.org/
Other State and National Programs

1. The Foreign Trained Professional Recertification Program (Minnesota) funded in part by the Administration for Children and Families, Office of Refugee Resettlement, is for refugees who have lived in the U.S. less than five years. The Program is provided by Women’s Initiative for Self-Empowerment (WISE) in partnership with the African and American Friendship Association for Cooperation and Development.

2. WES, founded in 1974, is a national non-profit organization dedicated to helping people with international education achieve their higher education and professional goals by evaluating and advocating for the recognition of international education qualifications.

3. Upwardly Global (UpGlo) is a national non-profit organization that helps work-authorized, skilled immigrants rebuild their professional careers in the U.S. UpGlo provides professional job-search training and access to employers with global talent needs.

4. WES’ website lists programs around the country that provide services for immigrant professionals, as well as online resources.

5. The Biotechnology Program at Bluegrass Community and Technical College in Lexington, Kentucky, trains a diverse group of students who use the certificate and/or degree programs as an essential step along their academic pathway leading to a variety of studies: health-related professions (Medical, Veterinary, Pharmacy, Dentistry, Optometry, research/development, environmental science, and education).

6. The Cooper Union’s Retraining Program for Immigrant Engineers (New York) provides admitted participants the opportunity to update their skills and work in their chosen fields by offering them professional courses and job placement assistance free of charge.

7. The New American Alliance (Minnesota) provides education and services to empower migrants/refugees to be fully integrated into Minnesota’s growth and development. It represents over 200 foreign trained physicians, nurses and other health care people to become licensed professionals in their new country.

8. REACH - Skilled Newcomer Career Services (Nashville, Tennessee), eliminates employment barriers for skilled new Americans and integrates this population into the professional U.S. workforce.
9. The New Hampshire Health Profession Opportunity Project (HPOP) is a five-year initiative led by the New Hampshire Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Minority Health and Refugee Affairs. The HPOP’s goal is to increase workforce training opportunities for low-income individuals who desire training in healthcare occupations.

10. The Foreign Physician Alternative Certification Program (Florida) provides orientation, assistance and training to foreign health care professionals living in the U.S. The program offers two tracks. One provides foreign physicians the opportunity to train and study for licensure to work as practicing medical doctors in the U.S. The other track provides retraining for foreign health care professionals to obtain degrees in other in-demand medical careers such as in nursing, medical lab technology, respiratory care, sonography, and teaching, among others.

RECERTIFICATION RESOURCES

Physicians

1. Physician Assistant Licensure Requirements for International Medical Graduates.

2. Medical Schools Recognized by the Medical Board of California. To be eligible for a Postgraduate Training Authorization Letter or Physician's and Surgeon’s license, applicants must have received all of their medical school education from and graduated from a medical school recognized or approved by the Medical Board of California. The medical school’s name must exactly match the name on the Board’s list of recognized medical schools.

Nurses

3. A Licensing Guide for International Registered Nurses.
High-demand Regulated Professions

4. The Professional Licensing Guides were created to help understand all of the steps required to earn a state professional license or credential to return to the full practice of a regulated profession.

Fellowships

7. The Graduate Assistance in Areas of National Need program provides fellowships through graduate academic departments, programs, and units of institutions of higher education to graduate students of superior ability who demonstrate financial need and plan to pursue the highest possible degree available in their field of study.
Medical Residency Information

1. The National Resident Matching Program is a private, non-profit organization established in 1952 at the request of medical students to provide an orderly and fair mechanism for matching the preferences of applicants for U.S. residency positions with the preferences of residency program directors.

2. The American Academy of Family Physicians offers the only comprehensive residency directory that allows you to search family medicine residency programs by location, community setting, residency program type, program size, and more.

3. This program focuses on International Medical Graduates (IMG) from Latin America or a Spanish-speaking country interested in obtaining residency training in Family Medicine and a medical license to practice in California. The goal of the UCLA IMG program is to provide bilingual (English-Spanish) family physicians for the state's underserved rural and urban communities which include large Hispanic and other vulnerable populations.

4. ResidentSwap.org works in four ways: 1) lists currently vacant residency spots, as posted directly by residency programs, 2) anonymously lists spots currently filled by residents who would like to swap location or specialty with another resident, 3) frequently monitors websites that publicly advertise residency vacancies and immediately sends alerts to your email or cell phone whenever new spots open, and 4) "Together Anywhere" mode, designed for couples, locates two spots in close geographical proximity to each other.

5. American Medical Association Residency Database.

MENTORING AND NETWORKING OPPORTUNITIES

Healthcare

1. Nursing Network is a professional network connecting nurses with the groups they belong to, colleagues they support, and resources they need.

2. County of San Diego Funds Training to Help Refugees Enter Healthcare Workforce.
Business

3. Founded in 1995, Asian Women in Business (AWIB) is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization with the primary mission of assisting Asian women entrepreneurs and professionals. Over the years, AWIB, a dynamic organization, has expanded its mission to address issues affecting Asian Americans on the corporate level; and Asian women in the legal arena; and has established a scholarship program for undergraduates which promotes and rewards demonstrated leadership. AWIB also serves on various task forces and boards to promote the inclusion of minority and women owned businesses and professionals.
