

Keep More of Your Money

Use Free ATMs!

Some banks may charge you each time you withdraw cash benefits using your California Electronic Benefit Transfer (EBT) card. Fees can range from $1.00 to $4.00 per transaction.

If you do not want to pay a service fee,
LOOK FOR A FREE ATM with the MoneyPass sign.

For more information on free ATM locations, visit the EBT Client Website at www.ebt.ca.gov or ask your local county office for a list of these ATMs.

REMEMBER:

- You should never be charged a fee for using your CalFresh benefits.
- Do not keep your personal identification number (PIN) and EBT card together.
- Do not let someone else use your food benefits, EBT card or PIN.
- Do not allow a retailer to buy your food benefits in exchange for cash.
- Buying, selling, or otherwise misusing SNAP benefits, known as CalFresh benefits in California, is a federal crime.
- To report suspected abuse, visit www.cdss.ca.gov/fraud/ or call (800) 344-8477.
